ROOSEVELT GREETED AT CAIRO BY CROWD OF ENTHUSIASTS WHO CHEER GREAT SPEECH

WE MUST STRIKE TO WIN ANY FIGHT

PRESIDENT PLEADS FOR GREAT-ER NAVY AS NEED FOR MORE FEDERAL POWER Executive Repeats Protestation Favor of Central Control of Interstate Commerce Affairs

CAIRO, Oct. 3.—In an impromptu speech made by him on the steamer Alton, on the way to Cairo, President Roosevelt made a statement which was taken as a reiteration of his determination to refuse a third term. He pledged himself to work for the improvement of the inland waterways with all his heart, "during the remainder of my term." He repeated the quoted words several times.

CAIRO, Ill., Oct. 3.—President Roosevelt arrived at 9 o'clock this morning and was driven from the wharf to St. Mary's park, where Mayor Parsons introduced Gov. Deneen, who introduced the president to the crowd. Roosevelt leaves for Memphis at 11 o'clock.

The trip down the Mississippi from St. Louis has been one of excitement continuing until late last night, and being resumed this morning. The citizens of Cape Girardeau were awakened by bombs this morning and lined the banks cheering the president.

A party of congressmen was displeased because they were not taken aboard the Alton with the president and waywiser commission when it was in midstream.

The president spoke to a large and eager audience, as follows: Men of Illinois, and You, Men of Kentucky and Missouri:

I am glad to have the chance to speak to you today. This is the heart of what may be called the old west, which we now call the middle west, using the term to denote that great group of rich and powerful states which literally forms the heart of the country. It is a region whose people are distinctively American in all their thoughts, in all their ways of looking at life; and in its past and its present alike it is typical of our country. The oldest men present can still remember the pioneer days, the days of the white-tiled ox wagon, the emigrant, and of the log cabin in which that emigrant first lived when he settled to his task as a pioneer farmer. They were rough days, days of hard work, and the people who did that work seemed themselves uncouth and forbidding to visitors who could not look below the surface. It is curious and amusing to think that even as genuine a lover of his kind, a man normally so free from national prejudices as Charles Dickens, should have selected the region where we are now standing as the seat of his forlorn "Eden" in Martin Chuzzlewit. The country he so bit-

CANON TO HAVE SOLID ILL. DELEGATION TO NAT'L CONVENTION

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 3.— Speaker Cannon will enter the national convention backed by the entire Illinois delegation. This is one of the developments of the great republican pow-wow being held here.
All the republican forces are getting busy swelling Cannon's presidential boom.

BURN TOWN RATHER THAN HAVE SALOONS

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Fear that the debt on the village would lead to the admission of saloons yesterday, led the village of Brooklyn near here to vote down a proposition to bond the village for $800 for the purchase of fire apparatus, of which there is none there.

JOHN MITCHELL TO SUBMIT TO THE KNIFE

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 3.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, is going to his home at Spring Valley, Ill., to be operated on for appendicitis.

GALENA CO. REBATED 50 PER CENT OF PRICE OF THE OIL

KELLOGG SECURES ADMISSION OF TRUST METHODS

CONTROL LUBRICATING OIL

Standard May be Proved to Have Controlled Commodity and Made Illegal Contracts.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—When the dissolution suit against Standard Oil was resumed this morning C. C.
Steinbrenner, through whom Kellogg wants to show that Standard Oil has a monopoly on the lubricating oil business by which it has collected over $1,000,000 annually, was called to the stand. Steinbrenner has charge of the books of the Galena Signal Oil company. The government charges that through the Galena and Waters Pierce Oil concerns Standard Oil controlled 97 per cent of the lubricating business. Kellogg contended that the roads were paid excessive prices over their lines and that in consideration of this the roads refused to buy oil, even at cheaper rates, from independent companies.

Steinbrenner said he knew one road that bought oil from tide-water, which was owned by Rogers, he thought. Kellogg produced a letter from President Miller of the Galena company in which the latter said his company supplied 97 half per cent of all the roads in the United States, Mexico and Canada.

Rebated 50 Per Cent.
Kellogg asked Steinbrenner if in 1904 his company didn't refund to the Pennsylvania road about fifty per cent of the schedule price paid for oil. The witness consulted his records and replied in the affirmative.

EASTERN STAR MATRON HERE

A joint meeting was held last evening at the Masonic temple of the La Crosse Chapter No. 22 of the South side and Ruth Chapter No. 23 of the North side, Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Helen Monahan of Darlington, Wis., Worthy Grand Matron of the state of Wisconsin, presided and inspected the two chapters. Regular routine work was taken up and Mrs.
Monahan delivered a short address on the work of the Eastern Star, taking up the work of the organization both in the United States and other countries, showing the advance in the past year.

Following the business meeting of the evening, a reception and banquet was tendered Mrs. Monahan at which about 200 attended.

Mrs. J. S. Lowe rendered two beautiful vocal selections, being accompanied by Prof. Redhead. Attorney Paul Mahoney was the speaker at the banquet and took up the work of organization and result in the past few years.

PHYSICIANS MUST REGISTER AT ONCE

All original certificates from physicians and undertakers which, under the new act of the legislature, are left with the health officer, are forwarded to Madison.

The health officer is not only required to take charge of the registration but must also make duplicate certificate of every one which is left at his office and thus much more falls upon his shoulders. The recompense is the same.

"A number of the most prominent doctors in the city have already registered, but there are still many who should call and receive the new certificates as soon as possible," said Mr. Murphy.

"The old certificates will no longer be permissible but will be returned, and they will have to be copied over."

"Those who do not register and leave their certificates will not be able to get their fees," said the health officer.

MOLLIE JAILED AGAIN

Mollie Moulton, as regular a prisoner in the Central police station as notorious Olaf Olson ever dared to be, is occupying a cell in the county jail, awaiting trial on a charge of vagrancy. It is said she struck a policeman. Mollie was discharged from the county almshouse last Saturday and accumulated a drunk yesterday.

GRAFTER M'KINLEY A PRACTICAL JOKER

FORMER LA CROSSE MAN NOW

SENDS PUTER A POSTCARD

Convicted Land Grabber in Turn Sends it to "Hi" Goddard With News Story.

Horace McKinley, the champion landgrabber, who, though implicated with S. A. D. Puter, now enjoying a prison term, escaped punishment by going to the orient, has turned into a humorist. Puter, now in the Portland jail, received a card from McKinley, recently, dated Shanghai and bearing a picture of a Chinese prisoner in ancient stocks. Across the card was written, "This Chink stole a piece of government land in China."

The picture and an article on the card was reproduced in a Portland paper, a clipping from which Puter sends to Hiram Goddard, the well known local lumberman.

The article in the Portland paper says: "Horace G. McKinley, the Beau Brummel of the Oregon land fraud artists, has become a joker. His old-time friend and associate, S. A. D.
Puter, who is now serving time in the county jail, was selected for the butt of McKinley's fun."

"Since McKinley suddenly and quietly slipped out of the restraining clutches of the federal law and emigrated to China some two years ago,

FUCHSEL-LA FRENAYE NUPTIALS TODAY

Miss Josephine Fuchsel and Mr.
Louis La Frenaye were wedded this morning at 9 o'clock at the St. Joseph's cathedral on Main street, Rev.
G. Sluyter performing the ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

After the ceremony they went to the home of the bride where an elaborate wedding dinner was served.
Miss Fuchsel resides at 1008 Mississippi street and has a large number of friends. They will go to housekeeping at once.

CROWD THOUGHT HARTBUER DEAD

Herman Hartbauer took a notion to sleep on the "soft" Third street board walk this morning across from the La Crosse county courthouse.
Spectators imagined he had dropped dead.
The man who was ill was taken home and cared for by his friends.

MANY PENNY FOUND INNOCENT TODAY

INDIAN ACQUITTED BY U. S.

IS RELEASED BY SANBORN

Two Cases Involving Failure to Destroy Revenue Stamps Cause Bond Forfeit

This morning in the United States court in the federal building the case of the United States against Peter Many penny for raising a postal money order from one dollar to twenty-one dollars was resumed and submitted to the jury, which reported at noon through their foreman that they had reached a verdict.

The verdict was handed to the clerk of the court, Alfred Harrison, who read: "We find the man not guilty."

Judge A. L. Sanborn then dismissed the jury. All of the petit jurors with the exception of this panel were discharged earlier in the morning.

Two other cases came before the court this morning.
There were the case of the United States against John Reischel and the case of the United States against Henry Reel, Jr.

Both men were charged with failure to destroy the stamps on beer-barrels.

In both cases the defendants failed to appear and the bonds were declared forfeited.

GIRL LURED INTO ALLEY AND SHOT DEAD BY MISCREANT

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Mystery surrounds the finding of the body of Marie Sexton, 23, in an alley on the Northwest side, with a bullet wound in her head. A young man who was attentive to her was taken into custody. It is supposed the girl was lured from her home last night. A flash lightning revealed her body early this morning.

FOUR ITALIANS ARE HUNG FOR MURDER

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 3.—Four Italians were hanged here this morning for hacking to pieces a brother laborer in a shanty at Gay a year ago. They entered the shanty bent on robbing its occupants; one resisted and he was killed.

LANSING GOOD ENTERTAINER

Neighboring Village is About as Good as They Make 'Em, is Verdict of La Crosse Delegation

It was a happy crowd which returned last night from the trade excursion to Lansing, Ia., after attending the fall festival and home coming.

The visitors were so well treated that all were enthusiastic in their praise of the hospitality of the city and Lansing goes down in the minds of the visitors as one of the liveliest little places along the Mississippi river.

Girls in Fast Race

An interesting feature of the program yesterday was the trotting race, lady drivers up, which was won by Blanche Clark, of Waukon, in handsome style after a spirited contest by Miss Elsie Weiser, of Lansing, that made the winner realize she had been in a horse race. William H.
Meyer officiated as starter, and the purse was $25. The girls are sweet seventeen, and the nerve which they displayed wrought the crowd up to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

McGregor, Ia., were married Monday night by Police Justice C. W.
Hunt. Ross was the first person in La Crosse to turn his marriage certificate over to Health Commissioner Murphy instead of giving it to Reg-

"SOPHS" HAZERS RUN RIOT UNTIL ARRESTED AND NOW THEY ALL FACE EXPULSION

BORAH SET FREE IN ABOUT A MINUTE; WILL RETAIN SEAT

UNITED STATES SENATOR FOUND

A DEMONSTRATION FOLLOWS

Defendant Makes Speech and Said Friendship of Steunenberg Caused Indictment

BOISE, Oct. 3.—Senator Borah will resume his seat in the United States senate when congress opens.
He had said he would not return to the senate if he was not entirely vindicated. His acquittal last night assures his return.

BOISE, Ida., Oct. 3.—One ballot was required for the jury in the case of Senator Borah to find a verdict of not guilty at 5:45 p. m. last evening.

Remarkable demonstrations followed the close of the case, the outcome of which has never been in doubt. In the court room, in spite of the warning by Judge Whitson, there was a great outburst of applause.

"I suppose," said the court, "that you all know that you are guilty of contempt, but I will make no effort to punish you."

The news quickly spread over the city and some enthusiastic friend of the senator called out the fire department. A run was made to the senator's hotel, a brassband was quickly summoned and an impromptu ovation was given the indicted man.
For a half hour the streets surrounding the hotel were filled with the friends and neighbors of Borah, who used every means imaginable to demonstrate their joy.

Senator Makes a Speech.

Senator Borah was escorted to the balcony of the hotel, where, after a brief address by James H. Hawley, his chief counsel, he spoke of his case, bitterly denouncing those responsible for the bringing of the indictment. He started by saying he would rather be in jail with the confidence of his friends than to be free without it, but with both vin-dication and friends his cup of joy was full.

"This is not a proper occasion," said Borah, "to express myself on some features of the case. Of those who by subordination of perjury secured my indictment I cannot speak with the ladies present. So far as I have been able to learn, I was indicted because I was the friend of Gov. Frank Steunenberg. I am glad that this trial has shown what I will always be proud that I was the close friend of the man who gave up his life for his state.

Calls Them Human Hyenas.

"I want to say to you that the only purpose in bringing this indictment was to blacken the name of Idaho's martyr. There is a certain class of human hyenas who get no pleasure out of life unless they can attack the character of the dead. I shall not soon forget the way they have slandered my dead friend and my state.

SPECIAL CAR TO BANGOR FESTIVAL

A special coach will be attached to the regular train which leaves the south side Milwaukee depot tomorrow noon at 12:35 for the accommodation of all citizens who wish to attend the Bangor street fair carnival.

"It was at first supposed that the La Crosse board of trade would send a special to Bangor, but on account of the short notice and also on account of the fact that so many specials have been sent out recently it was deemed best to drop the matter," said Secretary A. A. Bentley this afternoon.

The train will leave the north La Crosse depot at 12:55 and any who wish to go from the north side can leave at that time.

SAILORS IN PERIL

KILRUSH, Ireland, Oct. 3.—After clinging for 30 hours to the rigging on the wrecked vessel which went ashore off the Clare coast, 10 of its 25 sailors were rescued. The others are in frightful peril.

FACULTY TO MAKE EXAMPLE

If Men Now Out on Bail are Convicted They Will be Made to Leave University.

(By Fred T. Holmes.)

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Four students, Ernest Jung, of Milwaukee; Walter Hamilton, of Eau Claire; Raymond Downing, of Sheboygan, and Walter Bruno, of Milwaukee, the first three members of the Delta Psi fraternity, were arrested last night as leaders of a mob of 200 university boys who defied the police while the latter were protecting a boarding house where a number of freshmen were hiding to escape hazing. They plead guilty to disorderly conduct in municipal court this morning. They were held to $50 bail each. The bonds were signed by Ralph W. Jackman, their attorney, and the trial is set for Tuesday morning, Oct. 8.

The fracas last night was the worst in the history of the university and the authorities are prepared to take strong measures to put down the belligerent spirit and also to make an example in the present case. If convicted the men must quit the university under the rules.

Landlord Hiram Polly, whose house was broken into by means of prying open a window and tearing the screen, and also with skeleton keys, says he will prosecute five other students if he can find their names. His house was damaged to the extent of $100.

GEORGE WASHINGTON A LIAR AND A TAX DODGER OF RECORD

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 3.— Documentary evidence has just been discovered in Fairfax county, Virginia, to prove that George Washington was not always regarded by his neighbors as a model of veracity.
At the May term of the Fairfax county court in 1760 he was publicly "presented" by the grand jury for swearing to a false list of his taxable property.

The discovery of this record was made by Capt. S. R. Donahue who, in many court records, yellow with age, unearthed proof of the fact that in 1760 criminal proceedings were instituted against Washington for not entering his property for taxation, an offense which involved the making of a false oath.

GRAND JURY CLOSE ON BRIBERY TRAIL

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Indictment of certain city officials for receiving bribes in return for which protection was furnished the gambling trust—this is the real purpose of the present grand jury investigation, as unexpectedly revealed yesterday.
Whether the information secured shall warrant indictments of higher officials is another question.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 3.—Twice victorious over the Washingtons yesterday afternoon, coupled with the defeat of the Philadelphiaans by the Clevelanders, the day closed with the Detroiters lacking only a fraction of a point from being the undisputed American league champions of 1919. Already Manager Jennings and his men are hailed as the victors and tonight they are being overwhelmed with congratulatory messages from all points in the American league circuit and elsewhere. Their almost unexampled exploit in going into "the enemy's country" and bringing a close and stubbornly fought contest to a successful issue compels admiration in every quarter and it is felt here in Washington at least that the team which will battle for world championship honors this year measures fully to that which lowered the colors of the National league champions last year.

In virtually winning the American league championship, the Detroiters fairly outplayed themselves. Fifteen men were in the lineup for the local team, first and last, but they could not stop the Tigers at any stage of the eighteen innings played.

EDUCATED BALL PLAYER A BUM

William Kumm, a graduate of Northwestern University, who pitched in the Wisconsin league during last season, has been arrested in Milwaukee, Wis., on a charge of vagrancy, preferred by his father, and placed on probation for thirty days. Kumm's father testified that he had spent $15,000 on his son to educate him.

Kumm was educated in the Northwestern university and after his graduation played ball in the American association until he was farmed out to the state league to gain experience. He pitched in the league all season and earned $125 a month. Then he returned to Milwaukee and spent much of his time living a fast life.

"Travel the straight and narrow path," said the presiding judge, "and you will be all right. Try to make some use of the education which your father has scraped and saved to give to you."

Irate Duck—Excuse me, sir, but would you mind stepping off my foot? I wish to get out at the next corner.

Mr. Beetle—Oh, that's all right, boss. That's my corner too.—Woman's Home Companion.

"PINK" HAWLEY IS FULLY VINDICATED

PRESIDENT MOLL PROVES THE CHARGES GROUNDFLESS

Eastern Clubs Want Two Circuits With La Crosse on the New Western End of Game

"Pink" Hawley, manager of the La Crosse baseball team, has been vindicated of the charge made by Freeport that he attempted to bribe the Freeport players to throw games, and that he was ready to allow the Cannons to win the pennant, in consideration of $500. President Charles Moll, of the Wisconsin league, has investigated the charge, and finds it idle gossip, the creation of the minds of frenzied, jealous Freeport fans, with a plan of ridiculing Hawley and injuring his reputation.

So strongly is President Moll convinced of the honesty of "Pink" that the charge will not come up for discussion at the annual meeting of the state league at Milwaukee next Sunday.

Moll says Wausau won't contest Freeport's victory.

Sentiment among certain club owners of the Wisconsin State league for a change in the circuit next season may develop some action when the annual meeting of the organization is held at the Davidson hotel on Sunday afternoon. Although stories of a contemplated change have been circulated for some time, none of the owners has committed himself into declaring in favor of any definite plan. Rockford, Ill., Beloit and Appleton, Wis., desire franchises in the State league, while Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis., also have made overtures for membership.

According to rumors, some of the club owners in the eastern part of the circuit would like to see an organization consisting of Green Bay, Appleton, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Beloit, Madison, Freeport and Rockford in operation next summer. If this is contemplated, La Crosse, Eau Claire and Wausau, now a part of the State league, might be made part of another organization consisting of these three towns and Duluth, Superior and Winona. It is argued that the state of Wisconsin is a field large enough to support two big leagues, one comprising the principal cities of the southern part of the state and two Illinois towns above named, while the other would be a northern organization of important cities. Both would be compact affairs, with the cities not lying a great distance apart, as is now the case. Eastern club owners, who, it is said, favor a division of the present circuit, are understood to be partially influenced by the fact that such a change would mean a reduction of railroad expenses by fully one-half.

President Moll believes two leagues are feasible.

John Elliott, president of the La Crosse baseball club, has been elected a delegate to the annual meeting, but it is probable that Director Paul W. Mahoney will make the trip.

Elliott Will Attend.

President Elliott of the local club received notice this morning that the date of the meeting had been changed from Tuesday to Sunday. This was to permit organizations Sunday afternoon and the completion of business Monday so that delegates could attend the opening of the World championship series at Chicago Tuesday if they desired. Mr. Elliott expects to attend.

Mr. Elliott takes little stock in a division of the league, and likely will not give La Crosse's consent to a split forming two leagues in Wisconsin.

RIOT IN AMATEUR GAME YESTERDAY

The Young Americans defeated the Chippies yesterday in a double header. The Young Americans had very good batting but were not so very good in fielding. Howe was the worst in the team in fielding and then when he could not play field he wanted to play first, so he got released from the winning team. The Young Americans will play seven more games and then close for the season. The Young Americans had won 40 games out of 45. The five games they lost were with the Young Champs.

First game:
 Y. A. . . . . 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—2

In the second game the Young Americans got mobbed and so the umpire called the game 9 to 0 in favor of the Americans.

A WAY TO HELP HILL.

The Chicago Tribune is showing a lively interest in the national inland waterways problem, and is becoming an advocate of waterways extension and improvement upon a broad and helpful plane. This newspaper has always been for waterways improvement, but in the past its interest seemed linked with the problem local to Chicago—the lakes-to-the-Mississippi canal. With discerning wisdom, however, it has come to understand that the whole waterways problem is an intricate unit, and that it cannot do its best for the home project without giving consistent and earnest support to the general principle that must support the Chicago project.In its last issue the paper takes up "Jim" Hill's wild and exaggerated, but partially true, statement about the ending of railroad building and its whys and wherefores, applying the underlying thought to the waterways problem in a logical fashion. The Tribune says:Mr. James J. Hill has found out what ails the railroads. It is the lack of terminals and the inability to get the money with which to procure them. He cites a harrowing instance. It would take more than $550,000,000 to buy a tier of narrow blocks from the Harlem river to Thirty-third street in New York city. That would be equal to $165,- 000 a mile for a road from Chicago to that city.There is no question that the terminals of many if not most of the railroads entering the great cities of this country are inadequate to the work put on them. This is due to a considerable extent to the inability of railroad men to read the future. If they had had any conception of the volume of business that was in store for the roads they would have made better preparation for it. The railroad manager who complains of the great expense of adding to the terminal facilities of his road in Chicago should blame his predecessor, who did not attend to the matter when the cost would have been comparatively small.When Mr. Hill says that "railroad building in the United States is a thing of the past" he is exag-gerating, but it does not relieve the transportation situation to lay new track without providing additional terminal facilities. To do that in a great trade center is confessedly a difficult matter.This is another reason for the utilization of the waterways. When effective steps shall be taken in that direction the river towns will regain something of their old importance.
They will become points for the establishment of railroad terminals.
Perhaps it is not easy for a road to get all the room it needs at New Orleans. If navigation on the Mississippi were what it might be, terminals at Memphis, St. Louis, or some other important river point would be of far more service than they are now. The roads could transfer there to vessels the freight which they now carry to the ocean or the gulf.The improvement of the waterways will relieve the railroads of a burden which they confess is too great for them. It will give the shippers by water freight rates only about one-tenth of those the railroads charge. The Memphis convention is to be held at an opportune moment. The country is in great needof better transportation facilities, and the convention can aid materially in providing them.

The Chicago newspaper is right in its assertion that the 1907 waterways convention is timely, and that by reasonable and effective action it can become of immense value in solving the nation's traffic problem. However, as President Roosevelt has twice said in as many days, the convention should avoid the danger of jumping at conclusions and inaugurating an expensive and impracticable policy. The thing to do is to solve—not by guesswork, but by scientific exploitation—the problem of what method promises most to commercial water transportation. Once this is established, all the enthusiasm and aggressiveness in the world will be welcome to support a policy founded in logic and experience. Cobwebs have purposely been woven over the transportation problem that is the puzzle of our river navigators. Let us have these swept away. That so much mystery surrounds a sort of commercial enterprise that is as old as the hills of our oldest countries gives rise to the suspicion that the light has not been wanted. To know, not to guess, is the duty of the United States, and of its most active agent in this enterprise, the waterways association.

THE LANSING EXCURSION

History repeated itself yesterday when the Lansing excursion proved to be an immense success. It is simply the worth of personal association of those who have common interests demonstrating itself.

La Crosse is 37 miles from Lansing, and Lansing is 37 miles from La Crosse, yet they were never so near together as they are now.

There was a feature of yesterday's excursion that afforded a marked proof of the importance of men who must do business together, getting together. It was the presence on the excursion train of Henry Fladager, of Spring Grove. La Crosse sent an excursion to Spring Grove this fall, and Spring Grove sent an excursion to La Crosse. Had it not been for these excursions, does anyone suppose Mr. Fladager would have felt enough interested in La Crosse to have come all the way to La Crosse in order to attend the Lansing trip?

Years of association through correspondence, during which the customer in one town knows the manufacturer or jobber in the other only through the latter's traveling representative, does not beget that feeling of personal intimacy that comes from actual contact of the parties. But let the big man of the jobbing or manufacturing firm meet the big man of the mercantile house that buys his goods, and there at once comes into their association a new force. It is personal magnetism, the kind that creates friendship. And life is too short, too shy on pleasure and too full of sordidness, to justify spending it in business in a way to rob it of that "fellow feeling" that "makes the whole world kin."

President Moffett, of Standard Oil of Indiana, failed to make good the allegations he published in the circular in which he falsified many matters relating to his company. It is one thing to make statements in print, and another to substantiate them in the presence of a grand jury. The incident illustrates the futility of forming opinions on the assertions of predatory trusts, and there would be no regret were Judge Landis to fall the insolent magnate for contempt.

New York proposes to onst the Western Union and Postal telegraph companies on proof that they have formed a trust. The action was inspired by the striking operators. If it shall eventuate that national control of telegraph companies results from the uncompromising attitude of these two unrighteous-dividend payers toward their under paid help, they will have their own selfishness and obstinacy to blame.

King Edward may have naval affairs of greater importance than the quest of America's cup to occupy his attention, now that the kaiser has established his naval base within 300 miles of the English coast. It really is as much to the kaiser as was the movement of Uncle Sam's fleet to the Pacific, to Japan. But the latter precedent will not relieve his majesty of a certain sense of worry.

The championship of Theodore Roosevelt is likely to result in a sensational jump in Mississippi river navigation stock.

HOW TO EARN A LIVING IN CHINA.

(Argonaut.)

Senator Morgan once threw down a magazine with a sneer, "Another nature fake!" he exclaimed. "Why, these things are as absurd as—as absurd as—" And then he laughed and said that it reminded him of an address that he once heard an absent-minded missionary make.

"In China, dear friends," said the missionary, "human life is regarded as of but slight value. Indeed, if a wealthy Chinaman is condemned to death, he can easily hire another to die for him, and I believe many poor fellows get their living by thus acting as substitutes."

SPOTLIGHTS

The gentleman who charitably dispenses information for the benefit of the anxious public, is making a desperate effort to convince us that George Ade "cornered" the comedy market and put it all in "The College Widow." We will not go into the argument, for even if this play has not all, it is so abundantly supplied with comedy, that extravagant claims are certainly permissible, as will be easily seen at the La Crosse theater tomorrow night.

As frolicsome as ever, as full of nerve and life, "The College Widow" with all her wiles and train of subjects, will receive her usual warm welcome. She is just a bit gay, but we like her. "The College Widow" is certainly the representative American comedy, and as a field for peculiar humor of the Ade type and delineation of character, is regarded as the best play Mr. Ade has written. The popularity of this play continues to be practically without limit. The "widow," besides playing an entire year at the Garden theatre, New York, four months each in Boston and Chicago, is now in its fourth year. Last season Mr. Savage was compelled, by the numerous requests received, to send out three companies. The company which will be seen here is known as the number one, especially organized for what is known as the week stands, and 5792 Nine Gored Skirt with Panels, 22 to 30 waist.

NINE GORED WALKING SKIRT WITH PANEL 5792.

The skirt that is made with panels is a favorite among the latest models and has much to commend it. The long narrow gores give slenderness to the figure while there still is abundant flare at the lower portion and there is unusual opportunity afforded for effective use of the fashionable stripes. This one combines later in the season returns to New York for another run. Although Mr. Savage has had some wonderfully successful plays, "The College Widow" bids fair to outlive them all, even "The Prince of Pilsen," which is still playing to capacity houses, although it is in its seventh year.

Of course, "the play's the thing," but much credit is due Mr. Savage for the high standard he insists upon for all of his companies; hence, the theater-goer can count on seeing just as fine a performance the last season of a Savage play as the first.

This season Mr. Savage is sending us what is considered the best all-around company that has yet appeared in the play. Among some of the prominent players are: Miss Marguerita Snow, formerly leading woman with James O'Neill; Mr. Robert Kelly; James Clare Veldon, Estelle Dale, Maude Earle, Mabel Deane, Shirley Graham, Esther Boggs and Messrs. Robert Tavernier, Ernest Anderson, Richard Taber, George Trimble, John P. Brown, Otis Turner, Alan Brooks, Thomas Holer, Frederick Stanton, Cyril Raymond and Richard Webster.

"BEFORE AND AFTER."

All that money can do, all that art can provide, all that can be suggested by up-to-date ideas has been embodied in the production of Leo Dittschstein's laughter success "Before and After," which is scheduled for the La Crosse theater Saturday, Oct. 5, afternoon and evening. Managers Wagenhals & Kemper have sent on tour the identical production as seen on Broadway, New York, during its three hundred performances, so that theatre goers here will see the Astor theatre comedians at their best, headed by Mr. Dittschstein himself, and the charming comedienne, whose artistic performances are noted all over the country, and whose gowns have been the sensation of the world of fashion, "Before and After" ran successfully in Berlin, London and Paris.

A Great Play of American Life Today

"A great play of American life today," that is what the Hon. T. D. Sullivan, democratic leader of New York city and one of the most potent political politicians of the day, called "The Man of the Hour," which will be given here on Monday night, Oct. 7, in the La Crosse theater. Yet, "Tim" Sullivan is looked upon by many as the very type of "practical" politicians against whom the morals of "The Man of the Hour" is directed by Mr. George Broadhurst, its author. Another New York city politician who praised the play as a stirring picture of American life was Congressman Flinn, famous in the literature of politics as "Battery Dan."

It is queer to think that these two plain gores with fancy panels, and is exceptionally graceful. As shown it is made of hand loom Scotch tweed in shades of brown and tan and is finished with stitching of beading silk, but it will be found appropriate both for all fashionable suitings and for the similar materials used for the odd skirts to be worn with the separate coats that are promised such vogue. If striped materials are chosen the plaited portions of the panels would be peculiarly effective on the bias or cross. The use of buttons makes a distinctive feature of the season and the tailor ones illustrated give unquestioned finish, but the detail is, nevertheless, optional as the skirt would be perfectly finished without.

The skirt is cut in nine narrow gores with panels between and these panels are made in two sections each, the upper plain, the lower plaited. As illustrated the skirt just clears the ground, but varying lengths are correct and what is most becoming makes the best for each individual.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 11½ yards 27, 6¼ yards 55 or 5½ yards 52 inches wide, when material has figure or nap; 11 yards 27, 5¾ yards 44 or 1¾ yards 52 inches wide when it has not.

The pattern 5792 is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inch waist measure and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cent. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

men, "Big Tim" Sullivan and "Battery Dan" Finn, are regarded by many as the originals of two of the chief characters in the play, "Boss" Horrigan and Alderman Phelan.

"A Thoroughbred Tramp," an excellent show from every point of view and specially pleasing to lovers of thrills and hilarious comedy, will be presented at the La Crosse theater Sunday, Oct. 6, matinee and evening. The express train and the thunderstorm as arranged this season will no doubt prove realistic to the audience.

THE GIANT'S STRENGTH

BY BASIL KING

(Copyrighted by Harper &amp; Bros.)

"George says," Mrs. Trafford answered, slowly, "that business is a good deal like whist. Each player holds his portion of the cards, out of which he's permitted to win the game by any means short of cheating. It's acknowledged beforehand that there's no place in the play for mercy or unselfishness. The game goes to him who can get it. There are commonly accepted rules that he can observe or not, as he chooses. What justifies him is his success, and if he wins the question of honor or dishonor isn't raised. Now dear, your father is an amazingly clever player of the game. He can win it when his opponents hold all the best cards and more than half the trumps. It isn't his place to consider them; it's his duty to take the tricks. If he takes a great many tricks—a great, great many tricks—his skill can't be called dishonor, can it? It's skill that's all; and nothing is more admirable than skill in anything."

"But if it's skill to bring trouble and worry and want to some people and to others—to us, for instance—millions more than we can ever use."

"There's no such skill as that, dear," Mrs. Trafford argued, in a virtuous tone. "From the beginning of history wealth has always been a stewardship, and it has gone into the hands of certain stewards. If you are a steward, it's much more important to fulfill your stewardship than to question the means by which you were appointed."

"But," said Paula, doubtfully, "couldn't part of the stewardship be—to make reparation?"

"Reparation isn't as easy as it looks, dear. It's not only a matter of giving, but a matter of taking. When one side is willing to offer it, the other, perhaps, isn't ready to accept it."

"But if it were money? Anybody would accept money."

"No, anybody won't accept money, strange as it may seem. There are people—we may not know many of them—but there are people who put money a long way after pride. I've got a good mind to tell you something that George and I have always kept from you. It would show you."

Paula looked her interrogation.

"It's about your father."

"Do tell me, Laura, please."

"Well, the beginning of it was a long time ago, when we lived in Turtonville, Wisconsin. It was ages before I ever imagined I should marry one of the Traffords. Your father at that time had some trouble out there with a man named Marshall. I don't know exactly what it was, but it was something like what we were talking of last night."

"Not the Winstons?" Paula cried, painfully. "There isn't another case like that? Tell me, Laura!"

"No, it wasn't a bit like that; it was just something in the same line. What I'm coming to is this: Marshall was the rich man of Turtonville. He had something to do with coal, of course; and he had four daughters, all very plain. One of them was an old maid from the time I can begin to remember. Well, when the trouble started, your father began pushing Marshall and pushing him and pushing him—till at last he pushed him out of his business altogether. Then Marshall shot himself."

"Oh, Laura, don't tell me any more."

"It was father's fault, dear. Your father didn't make him shoot himself. That was perfectly gratuitous on Marshall's part. But it's about the old Miss Marshalls that I want to tell you. After their father died and they were so poor, they had to turn their hands to anything for a living. They did sewing and made cake and put up pickles and painted dollies."

"Oh, how dreadful, Laura!"

"And they did pretty well till the oldest one fell ill. That was the very summer I was married; and one day, in the winter after, I happened to mention them to your father."

"Oh, I'm so glad. I know he was good to them!"

"Yes; he sent them a thousand dollars, anonymously, through their minister. He gave the strictest orders that his name was never to be known, but when they had spent a couple of hundred of it the foolish clergyman told them. That was enough. The sick one got up out of her dying bed and went to work. It was as if her pride had healed her. For two years they toiled and saved till they had got together as much as they had spent. Then they returned the full thousand to your father. He told me about it, and I know it cut him to the quick. He's forgiven them, though, great heart that he is! And he's asked me several times to do what I can for them."

"And you've done it, Laura?"

"Indeed I have! I couldn't send them money, of course, after their treatment of Uncle Trafford. Besides, I never run the risk of pauperizing any one. What I've done has been to give them work. They sew beautifully, and I've managed to let them have all the house-linen, both for Newport and Tuxedo, without a suspicion on their part that it was for our family. Naturally, I had to do it through a third person, for they wouldn't have touched it if they had known."

"Are there really people in the world who feel towards us like that?" Paula questioned, with an air of distress.

OF HUMAN INTEREST

"I suppose," Mrs. Trafford replied, in her practical way—"I suppose they feel towards us much as the French do towards the Germans. It can't be very pleasant for the Germans to be hated so, and yet they have Alsace-Lorraine to console them. I don't blame the Miss Marshalls. I say it's very natural in their situation. I do all I can to alleviate their condition, and I believe I succeed. Their work is really exquisite, and I find that, even after paying the express charges, it is cheaper than it would be in New York. Now the third person of whom I spoke—if you must know who it is, it's that Miss Green who works in the College Settlement in Bleeker street—she wants me to take a lot of their painted dollies, but I feel that I must draw the line at that."

QUIPS AND CRANKS AND WANTON WILES

"Ha, ha!" Laughed Pat.

English John and Pat were two friendly workmen, who were constantly tilting, each one trying to outwit the other.

"Are you good at measurement?" asked John.

"I am that," said Pat quickly.

"Then could you tell me how many shirts I could get out of a yard?" asked John.

"Sure," said Pat, "it depends on whose yard you go into."—Woman's Home Journal.

"So you want more wages?" said the warden of the penitentiary.

"That's what I do," answered the cook. "This talk of punishing trust magnates is getting me more nervous every day. If I've got to learn to cook terrapin and lobster a la Newburg, I want more pay. And what's more I want to be called a 'chef.'"

The expert bridge-player's little daughter was a model Sunday school scholar. Toward the close of the year her teacher said: "Susie, if you continue to know your lessons so well you will have a Good Conduct card for every Sunday in this year."

"My!" said Susie, "there'll be a whole deck, won't it?"—Lippincott's.

The Caretaker—Terrible difficult to get coffins down; why, the last three funerals 'ere was year—

(The caretaker is still "taking care," and the landlord wondering why the house doesn't let.)—London Opinion.

It always seems to me that the little things we overhear make more of an impression on us, than the big things we hear. I don't refer to eavesdropping or of intentionally listening to anything that is not intended for our ears, but to casual remarks and conversations, in the street cars, on the corners, etc.

A few nights ago I happened to be on my way down town and walking just ahead of me was a mother and her little boy. I should think he was about eight or nine years old. He looked such a manly little fellow, trudging along beside his ma, but nothing he could do or say seemed just right.

"What's the matter with you, can't you walk straight on the sidewalk and not step all over the grass?" his mother was saying. (I hadn't noticed that he was.) Silence for a minute, then, "Straighten up your shoulders, can't you?" Up went the little shoulders. "Say, ma, the bang's playin', ain't it?" "Well, I don't care if it is, that's not what I came down town for, by any means," snapped the woman. Silence again. "Could I stand on Fifth and Main and listen a few minutes, ma?" "No, you can't, you'll come right with me." Well, that's all I overheard. I passed them then, but do you know, my heart went out to that little fellow, for he seemed so patient, and I just wondered if little fellows of that age don't appreciate being made companions of and treated with consideration as well as those that are older.

How many real good conscientious mothers seem to have a continual grouch and grievance when talking to their children! They think too world of them, but they don't see to realize perhaps that the years go passing swiftly and it won't be long before they will be capable of filling congenial companions, for these habits aren't left off easily.

Pleasant companionship with one boy and girls means so much to both them and us—not many years hence—but now, for none of us know of the future, and let's not allow it to bring us any regrets along this line at least.

NOT QUITE CLEAR.

A well known clergyman of Boston once was talking to some friends with reference to the desirability of chronological coherence in ideas, in the form of written statement, when he observed that there are times when this method becomes a trial too suggestive.

"For instance," said the preacher, "I once heard a minister in New Hampshire make his usual Sunday morning announcements as follows:—

"The funeral of the late much lamented sexton takes place on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock."

"Thanksgiving services will be held in this chapel on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock."

CROSSING BLOCKED BY CATTLE TRAIN

PASSENGERS LEAVE STREET CAR TO WALK

FORCED TO GO AROUND CARS

Problem of Mill Street Crossing Blockade Again Brought to Mind by 45-Minute Wait

From forty to forty-five minutes this morning the North side was without car service, the Mill street crossing being blocked by a string of empty cattle cars. There were nearly a hundred cars in the string and they crawled past the crossing at a snail's pace, stopping every few feet for some unexplainable reason. After waiting for a reasonable length of time the majority of the passengers were forced to get out and walk around the string to get to their destinations.

The blocking of the Mill street crossing is a problem that has long puzzled the residents of the North side who are forced to use the street cars, as no attention seems to be paid whatever to the law governing the time a railroad has a right to block a crossing.

QUEER ACCIDENT IN RAILWAY YARDS

A peculiar accident happened to train No. 3 Tuesday while coming into the station on the North side. The train had just reached Berlin street and was passing a string of box cars. For reasons that cannot be explained a door on one of the box cars flew out just as the smoking car was passing and demolished nearly every window in the car on the side towards the freight cars. Fortunately no one was injured by the accident.

BURLINGTON WILL RUN TRAIN THROUGH

NO. 54 GOES FROM MINNEAPOLIS TO SAVANNA, ILL.

STOPS AT GRAND CROSSING

Burlington Officials Practically Decide Upon Change for Improvement of Train Service.

Officials of the Burlington road have practically decided upon a change in the train service through La Crosse which will be a big improvement to the trade in this city and will enable people to go south upon the noon train which now stops at Grand Crossing.

Southbound passenger train No. 54, which arrives from Minneapolis at Grand Crossing at 11:15 a. m. and stops there, will hereafter be run on through to Savanna, Ill.

The train now stops here and starts back to the twin cities at 1:40 in the afternoon. The continuance of the trip to Savanna will make the northbound time of the train later, and the schedule of the leaving time has not been decided as yet.

WED THIS MORNING

MISS TAPLETT AND EARL AIKEN WEDDED

Wedding Breakfast Served After Ceremony

Miss Minnie Taplett and Mr. Earl Aiken were married at 9 o'clock this morning at the St. James church by Father Murphy.

A large number of friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony. Immediately afterwards the young couple was driven to their future home where a wedding breakfast was served.

Among the out-of-town guests here to witness the affair were the parents of the bride, her brother and Mrs. Dankerson of St. Paul.

They will be at home to friends and relatives after October 15th, at 1225 South Fifth street.

SUMMIT MOULDERS TAKE A VACATION

The Summit foundry moulders are enjoying a vacation and as a result half the plant has been closed.

The finishers and others in the factory are laying off today and all are having a general good time.

The plant is rushed at present and the orders far surpass the output and the plant will be in full operation again in a few days.

NEW SLEEPER ON THE NORTHWESTERN

Because business along the line of the Northwestern road has increased to a great extent the company has established a sleeping car service between Winona and Chicago in addition to the regular service of this kind which has been in effect for several years.

Hereafter a sleeping car for La Crosse people who wish to make the trip to the Windy City will be attached to the passenger train leaving La Crosse every evening at 10:40 o'clock the car reaching Chicago at 7 o'clock the following morning.

This car will be a first-class Pullman sleeper and will be run on the train in addition to the regular sleeper which comes through from Mankato.

The Northwestern road has always enjoyed its share of the passenger business between La Crosse and Chicago but it is safe to say that the new sleeping car service will make their line even more popular than before.

The sleeping car will be on a siding opposite the Winona station and may be occupied every evening at 8:30 o'clock, thus allowing the person who expects a busy time in Chicago the following day an opportunity to retire early in the evening and wake up bright and fresh the next morning as the train is flying towards the Wells street station.

The service is one that local Northwestern officials have worked for some time and the new car is now made necessary owing to the increase in business out of La Crosse as well as all along the line.

JOHN FLYNN POST MEETS ON FRIDAY

The annual inspection of the post will take place next Tuesday evening at their hall and will be perfected by Mrs. Belle Hanover.

The annual election of officers of the post will be held the first meeting in December.

The curb and gutter on the Kane street job will be completed by about Tuesday.

ONALASKA COUNCIL DEMANDS 5C FARE

ALDERMEN AUTHORIZE SENATOR MORRIS TO INVESTIGATE

WANT THROUGH SERVICE ALSO

Neighboring City, Dissatisfied With Street Car Service, Will Demand Big Improvement

To compel the City Railway company to establish a five cent fare between Onalaska and the North side as well as to establish a through car from Onalaska to Fourth and Main is the plan that is at present occupying the attention of the Onalaska council.

The paying of ten cents from Onalaska to the North side and then being forced to pay five cents more to get to the south side has long been a sore spot to the residents of Onalaska and after considerable agitation they have forced the Onalaska council to take the matter up.

The plan is to have a charge of five cents between Onalaska and La Crosse and instead of having the car stop at the edge of the North side, to have it go straight through to Fourth and Main streets.

There is also some talk of having another car put on, thus shortening the schedule.

Just what can be done in regards to the matter is not known, but Senator Thomas Morris will investigate the matter and render his report at the next meeting of the Onalaska council.

The Onalaska council last night authorized Senator Morris to investigate the problem and report.

STEADWELL ISSUES PURITY PROGRAM

NATIONAL CONGRESS AT BATTLE CREEK THIS MONTH

LOCAL MAN IS PRESIDENT

Noted Speakers from All Parts of the Country Will Talk on the White Slave Trade

The program for the National Purity Congress which convenes Oct. 31 to Nov. 6, in Battle Creek, Mich., has just been issued and indicates a feast of good things for those who are fortunate enough to attend this most important gathering.

This congress is called by and will be held under the auspices of the National Purity Federation, an association having for its one object the federation of all organizations in America that are promoting purity in the life of the individual and in social relations. The growth of the federation during the past year has been most rapid, and judging from the prominence and number of the different organizations represented on the program, its mission is being recognized by our leaders in religious and reform movements.

The officers of the federation are as follows: B. S. Steadwell, La Crosse, Wis., president; Dr. Howard A. Kelly, Baltimore, first vice president; Rev. Sylvanus Stall, D. D., Philadelphia, second vice president; Mrs. Rose Woodallen Chapman, Brooklyn, recording secretary; Miss Hattie Dickson, Marshalltown, Ia., corresponding secretary; Dr. Carolyn Gelsel, Battle Creek, Mich., treasurer. On the advisory board we notice such well known names as Rt. Rev. Samuel Fallows, D. D., Evangelist J. Wilbur Chapman, Rabbi H. Perelra Mendes, Mrs. E. M. Whittemore, Judge Ben B. Lindsey, Anthony Comstock, Mrs. Lenora Lake and many others.

A most delightful feature of the congress is that all delegates will be entertained free of expense at the great sanitarium, in Battle Creek, an invitation having been extended by its superintendent, Dr. J. H. Kellogg, a year ago when the congress met in Chicago. The entire membership together with the guests, being entertained under one roof, gives every advantage in utilizing every hour to the practical work of the assembly.

The program itself covers every phase of the purity problem. One of the most important sessions of the congress will be devoted to the consideration of conservative and practical methods of imparting instruction in the home, the school and by physicians and ministers. One entire session will be given up to discussions on the white slave traffic.

HAT WORKS FAST GROWING CONCERN

The La Crosse Hat Works, one of the younger mercantile establishments of the city, is making a rapid stride in moving from its old location to the new store, at 524 Main street. The very best of weathered oak fixtures have been put in throughout and a very fine stock of men's furnishing goods fills the shelves and show cases.

This firm makes all styles of soft and stiff hats at popular prices and carries a complete line at all times.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS ARE HERE

C. J. Harlan, state superintendent of the American Sunday School Union and Rev. Dr. G. P. Williams of Chicago, superintendent of the Northwest district, are in the city and are meeting with success in their work in behalf of interdenominational Sunday schools in the country districts, where there are no churches to support them. Rev. Williams and Mr. Harlan addressed several of the churches in the city last Sunday. The American Sunday School union is a strong organization and during the past year have established 109 schools in Wisconsin alone, bringing in 3,620 teachers and scholars, while in the United States 2,602 interdenominational schools have been established.

Some people are so disagreeable that even the climate doesn't agree with them.

Special Vote Offer

IN CONNECTION WITH THE

Tribune's $3500 Contest FOR THIS WEEK ONLY

OCTOBER 1st TO OCTOBER 7th INCLUSIVE

THE ONE BEST BET

Candidates Who Are in to Win, Will Put Their Best Efforts In the Work THIS WEEK

TO DISREGARD THE PRESENT INDUCEMENT, WILL MEAN DEFEAT

Last week the 2000 extra vote offer was in vogue. Every candidate who turned in five new six months' subscriptions got 2000 extra votes, over and above the usual number of ballots. That was a liberal offer and contestants took advantage of it at every turn. Many contestants benefitted so materially that they have built up strong reserves and feel that they are safely entrenched and right in line for the capital prize. DON'T BE TOO SURE OF THIS. Other candidates may have secured as many votes as you. Those who did not do well last week will be given one more opportunity. For them, and in order that the leaders today may build up a more formidable defense, the special vote offer of THIS WEEK is inaugurated.

HERE IS THE PLAN.

Each and every contestant who turns in one or more new yearly subscriptions, will be entitled to 4000 votes on each order. Four new three months' subscriptions will equal one year, provided all four are turned in at the same time, entitling the contestant to 4000 votes. Two new six months' subscriptions turned in at one time will also be counted as a yearly subscription and 4000 votes issued. Twelve one month orders will also count for 4000 votes. In fact, any combination of orders such as a nine months' subscription and a three months' subscription; or an eight months' subscription and a four months' subscription will count as a yearly order, PROVIDED they are turned in at the same time.

The only restriction, then, is that orders must be new and in the event that short term subscriptions are turned in, they must be combined so that the aggregate total of months figures twelve. Be sure to send in subscriptions for less than one year in a club to equal one twelve month's order. The 4000 votes will then be issued. Send in the new yearly subscriptions as soon as secured and get the 4000 votes. If combining orders, send in the subscriptions just as soon as a club equaling one twelve months' order is obtained and get the 4000 votes. Subscriptions for a term shorter than one year will not be entitled to EXTRA votes unless accompanied by an order or orders to equal one twelve months' subscription.

THIS IS THE BEST OFFER YET, and will positively not be repeated. The inducement begins Tuesday morning, October first, and continues up to, and including Monday, October 7th. At that time the offer will be withdrawn. Don't fail to make the most of this exceedingly liberal inducement. It is the one best bet. Play it to win.

Don't Wait for Another and Better Offer, You May Be Disappointed If You Do.

"Make hay while the sun shines," and "Strike the iron while its hot," are maxims that apply to the liberal inducement announced here. Make the very most of it—NOW. Success or defeat may depend on this week's effort. One thousand votes may win the $1,250 Buick Touring car. If you desire to win, work hard THIS ONE WEEK.

HANSON ACQUITTED

DECISION IMPOR- TANT TO DRY TOWNS

"Beeros" With Less Than 2 Per Cent Alcohol "Soft"

A. C. Hanson, "The Duke of Mindoro," formerly an assemblyman from the Second La Crosse district, trustee of the La Crosse county insane asylum, and prominent in western Wisconsin politics, was acquitted by a jury, after five minutes' deliberations yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock on a charge of running a blind pig at Mindoro, Wis., his home. Hanson is a general merchant in the town.

Though he has been freed on one charge, it is probable Hanson will be rearrested and tried again. The temperance element of Mindoro declare he has sold intoxicating drinks in his temperance saloon, since the town went dry on July 1.

"Beeros," a drink with a two per cent solution of alcohol in it, was the beverage dispensed at the temperance bar of Hanson. Witnesses yesterday testified to receiving beer there, but the jury evidently did not believe these statements. Seventeen witnesses were sworn for the state, while the defense had the defendant, his clerk, and a brewing chemist from Milwaukee.

The complaint against Hanson was sworn out by Peter Gullickson, chairman of the town board.

The case was heard by a jury of three, Ole Tollefson, A. C. Munson, Jr., and Joseph Goodland.

YOUNG HEIRESS TO WED HER TEACHER

APPLETON, Wis., Oct. 3.—The engagement of Miss Barbara McNaughton, daughter of John McNaughton, millionaire paper manufacturer and banker, and Prof. Judson T. Rosebush, professor of economics and political science at Lawrence university, is announced.

Any man can put up a bluff, but it takes faith to move mountains.

TRANSFORMATIONS

Curious Results When Coffee Drinking Is Abandoned

It is almost as hard for an old coffee toper to quit the use of coffee as it is for a whiskey or tobacco fiend to break off, except that the coffee user can quit coffee and take up Postum without any feeling of a loss of the morning beverage, for when Postum is well boiled and served with cream, it is really better in point of flavor than most of the coffee served nowadays, and to the taste of the connoisseur it is like the flavor of fine, mild Java.

A great transformation takes place in the body within ten days or two weeks after coffee is left off and Postum used, for the reason that the poison to the nerves—caffeine—has been discontinued and in its place is taken a liquid food that contains the most powerful elements of nourishment.

It is easy to make this test and prove these statements by changing from coffee to Postum. Read "There's a Reason."

WEDDED IN WINONA;

Cupid's "winged messenger" yesterday evening at 9 o'clock conveyed the news to friends in La Crosse of the wedding of Miss Jessie Williams and Carl H. Ruplin at Winona.

The wedding is said to have taken place at 8:30 o'clock and news of the event came as a great surprise to their many relatives and friends to whom the messages were sent. They had told their parents of their intentions before their departure, but the event was kept secret until their friends received telegrams about 9 o'clock last evening. Some got up out of bed to answer the impatient call of the messenger, just to read "Married in Winona at 8:30 to-night"—Carl and Jess.

Mrs. Ruplin has made her home for some time with Mrs. Margaret Sherwood at 214 South Fifth street, her home being in Galesville. She has been employed for some time as a cashier at the T. A. Lavak grocery store on Main street. The husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ruplin, is a member of the well known Ruplin Baking company, and has a large number of friends throughout the city.

The happy couple will take a short honeymoon trip and will then return to make their home in this city.

COMING AND GOING.

Mrs. Harry Murphy left this morning for her home at Fremont, Neb., after a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Oiberg.

LA CROSSE SOUGHT FOR VALLEY LEAGUE

DULUTH OWNER SEEKS STRONG NEW ORGANIZATION

INCLUDE ST. PAUL AND MPLS.

President Elliott Indicates That a Split in State Organization Would Result in a New League

La Crosse does not propose to stand for a split in the Wisconsin league which will leave this city in a tail-end organization, or secondary outfit, and if any such action is proposed at the annual meeting of the league directors in Milwaukee Sunday it will be fought by President John Elliott of the La Crosse club.

In the event of a rupture in the state league, La Crosse may become a member of a new organization to be known as the Mississippi Valley league, including Duluth, Superior, Stillwater, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Eau Claire, La Crosse, and Red Wing or Winona.

The organization of this league is already being taken up by President Kleinhof, owner of the Duluth club, and President Elliott has received a letter asking the La Crosse club to join. Duluth is one of the best baseball towns in the country, but the jumps necessary in the Northern league have practically killed that organization, it being unlikely it will ever be reorganized.

Winnipeg is also a good baseball town, but is 600 miles from Duluth and the railroad fare is enough to eat up all the profits. In the failure of the Northern league Calumet and Houghton are partly responsible, as their attendance is spasmodic and they draw only during the middle of the seasons.

Kleinhof of Duluth in writing President Elliott says he has communicated with Manager Lennon of the St. Paul American association team, and his letter indicates that Lennon stands ready to father plans to organize new clubs in St. Paul and Minneapolis for the proposed "Mississippi Valley" or "Northwest" league, either of which names may be adopted. There is only one obstacle in this organization, Duluth being 152 miles from St. Paul, a pretty long jump. However, with Superior in the league, and being only a few miles from Duluth, this could be counterbalanced.

There is also a probability that in the event of the organization being perfected Red Wing would be included instead of Winona, as Lennon has a park at South St. Paul, which is near Red Wing, in charge of his brother, which could easily be used. This park with semi-professional teams has drawn thousands to Sunday and holiday games during the season, and a league series would no doubt increase this attendance.

In the proposed split of the Wisconsin State league La Crosse and Eau Claire is included with Wausau. However, Mr. Elliott says if a new league were to be organized Wausau could not be included with La Crosse if Duluth and Superior were included, as the jump is too far.

President Elliott does not expect, however, that there will be any material changes in the Wisconsin league. He says that this talk is rampant at all times, this season of the year, and that the meeting is likely to continue the league as heretofore. In the first place it is impossible for the league directors to oust any club, or change the circuit without the consent of the clubs, as the constitution forbids it. Therefore, if La Crosse insists upon the continuance of the league as heretofore, the "sayso" of this city's representative will have considerable weight.

It is expected the work of the league directors will be concluded Sunday and Monday, so that the delegates can take in the opening of the world's championship series, which begins at Chicago Tuesday.

ANOTHER WRANGLE ON TAX PROBABLE

COUNTY VALUATIONS INCREASE BY $329,757

CITY INCREASE BUT $830,579

County Officials Claim This Is Out of Proportion and Board May Seek Modification

An increase in the assessed valuation of La Crosse county of $329,757 is shown by the reports of the various town assessors to County Clerk Rawlinson, while the increase in the valuation of the city proper is $830,579. Another wrangle over this division of the city and county taxes is probable where the proportion is fixed, the increase in the city being out of ratio with the growth in the county.

The assessment committee of the county board probably will meet shortly and take up the problem, attempting to arrive at a solution of the question.

Following are the total assessed valuations throughout the county:

	In 1907.	In 1906.
Bangor .....	665,194	665,875
Barre .....	608,918	590,068
Burns .....	999,525	980,465
Campbell .....	824,869	798,631
Farmington .....	1,191,383	1,075,958
Greenfield .....	494,557	482,496
Hamilton .....	1,171,010	1,172,485
Holland .....	753,990	666,156
Onalaska .....	744,483	730,943
Shelby .....	676,855	673,160
Washington .....	444,990	430,164
Bangor, village .....	383,045	374,415
W. Salem .....	610,395	601,482
Onalaska, city .....	239,220	238,010
La Crosse .....	19,651,048	18,820,469

Totals ..$29,459,482 $28,309,146

These figures may not be used by Supervisor of Assessment J. E. Kelder in making his assessment roll.

With the exception of the town of Hamilton, every town in the county shows an increase in value. Farmington leads with $115,425, with West Salem $9,000, Onalaska $1,210, and Bangor $8,630.

SEPTEMBER WAS A DAMP MONTH

MORE MOISTURE FELL THAN IN MANY MONTHS

BUT THREE SUNSHINY DAYS

All the Others Were Either Cloudy, or Partly Cloudy, or the Rain Was Falling

Rain, rain, more rain, then clouds, was the program for the month of September, and the result is startling when one takes a glance at the summary of Weather Observer E. C. Thompson for the ninth month of the year.

During the entire month there were only three days of sunshine, clear days, while twelve were partly cloudy and the remainder were cloudy. Eight thunderstorms were intermingled in the descent of rain, and added to the horrors of a wet month. With all these rainy days, the precipitation for the month was not unusual. Last year over three inches more of rain fell. The amount this year was 3.85. This is about the average for September.

The highest temperature during the month was 85 degrees, on Sept. 15. The thermometer also recorded 33, one degree from freezing, on Sept. 25. The greatest daily range was 26 degrees on Sept. 22. The least was on Sept. 7, when the mercury traveled within a distance of 6 degrees.

The Knights of the Maccabees held their annual meeting in their lodge rooms last evening, followed by an impromptu party which was the opening gun for the series of dances and parties that will be given during the winter. A large crowd was present and a most enjoyable time was reported by all attending.

A beautiful silk pillow was sold Constable Louis B. Omerberg taking the beautiful article. The pillow was presented to the lodge by Mrs. William Christ, the work on the pillow being by her own hand. The proceeds gained go to the reserve fund of the society.

The committee in charge of the evening was: Chairman Louis Omerberg, Louis Weisbecker, Tom Digan, M. Hirschheimer and N. T. Berry.

MACCABEES SELL A SILK PILLOW

The first dancing party of the Elks will be given tomorrow evening, and within a week the "stag" committee promises to have an interesting program prepared for the bachelors of the club.

REVENUE MAN HERE

Frank R. Bentley, Baraboo, Wis., revenue collector for the western district of Wisconsin, is attending the present session of United States district court here. He will be called as a witness before the grand jury.

DOCTOR THE ITCH WHERE THE ITCH IS.

Don't Dose the Stomach to Cure Eczema and Other Skin Diseases. Those afflicted with Eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, or other skin diseases of a similar nature, should never dose the stomach to rid themselves of the terrible itch. They should doctor the itch where the itch is—cure the skin through the skin, not through the stomach.

Eczema and other diseases of a kindred kind are skin diseases—not blood diseases. Science has shown that Eczema is caused by germs in the skin, and that the disease can be eradicated only by killing the germs.

Dr. Decatur D. Dennis was one of the first physicians to follow out the germ theory in skin diseases. Then he discovered that by mixing oil of wintergreen with other soothing agents he had a liquid prescription which killed the germs and cured the awful itch, leaving the skin white and smooth. Since that time this D. D. D. Prescription has been the standard remedy for skin diseases, just as D. D. D. soap is the standard high grade skin soap.

The first few drops of D. D. D. give instant relief from the terrible itch and from the frightful burning of the diseased skin. So reliable is this D. D. D. remedy that hundreds of physicians prescribe it. It is as wash as thin as water and as mild as pure, which is applied to the diseased portion of the skin.

Mrs. Frances Richmond of Milton, Traill county, Kentucky, writes: "My little girl's fingers were sore almost to the bone from Eczema. I used part of the sample bottle of D. D. D. Prescription received from you and now they are well. It is a wonderful skin remedy."

We carefully investigated this D. D. D. Prescription before recommending it to our neighbors and patrons, and after a long experience we are more than ever convinced of its wonderful merits.

HOESCHLER BROS. You needn't decide now, but call at our store anyway and we will show you how this D. D. D. Prescription gives instant relief from itch.

WHEN YOU SHOW YOUR TEETH you cannot help but feel mortified if their condition implies neglect or carelessness. This state of affairs is entirely unnecessary, for at our Dental Office all sorts of careful and scientific Dentistry is done for very moderate charges. Call in and let us examine your teeth, and tell you what is needed to put them in first-class condition.

ST. JOSEPH'S RIDGE ANNUAL COURT-FEST

MICHOWSKY-CHAPIESKY ROW

Former Claims to Have Been Hit With a Hammer, and Fists, and Cut With Knife at Fracas

St. Joseph's ridge, true to customs of years' standing, is having its annual fall festival and "La Crosse-coming" in county court today. Half of the residents of the district are here attending the trial, while the remaining half, only women, are at home attending to the duties of the farm.

The chief carnival attraction of the day is the assault and battery case of Joseph Michowsky against Albert Chapiesky, Frank Chapiesky and Tony Chapiesky, known as the Chap-iesky trio, the dancing brothers.
Michowsky prefers the title of slugger against the brothers, claiming he was pummeled, hit with a hammer and cut with a knife in a fight in the saloon of the trio on the ridge on Sept. 18. The night was filled with election returns and the men in the saloon, exuberant over a victory, imbibed too freely.

While the farmers of St. Joseph's ridge are the ones to be benefited by the attraction, La Crosse county is footing the bills, the cost of the trial which will amount to $200 or more. An unusually large number of witnesses have been summoned to attend and the distance traveled varies from twenty to thirty miles.

Conflicting testimony was offered by the witnesses this morning. Some swore to having seen Michowsky kick Frank Chapiesky and that the other Chapiesky brothers had nothing to do with the fight, while others swore to opposite things and declared the Chapiesky brothers were at fault.

"A good rooster is always poor," is one of the remarks which started the fist fight, in which several exhibited their pugilistic advantages to a good extent. Wenzel Korn, supervisor of the town of Washington, testified to the petty wrangling previous to the fight, but was not in the saloon when the mixed bout was pulled off. John Urbanek swore he saw Michowsky kick Frank Chapiesky, after Michowsky had been ordered from the saloon. He proved an unwilling witness, and Judge Brindley informed him that he was drunk at the time or else did not desire to tell all he saw. Urbanek said he saw little of the fight in the saloon, although he was there all the time.

John Burbach was on the stand at noon and testified to having seen Frank Chapiesky order Michowsky from the saloon, and the latter took hold of him. When the trouble began, Michowsky resisted and tried to defend himself. He swore Albert Chapiesky ran from behind the bar, after arming himself with a hammer, and saw him strike Michowsky.
He also testified that Tony Chapiesky also joined in the battle.

Michowsky was sworn this afternoon, and denied striking any of the defendants, until after he was hit on the head with a hammer. The gashes over his eye and on the back of his head, now almost healed, were shown to the jury.

Albert Chapiesky swore that Michowsky struck him first—after he had ordered the complainant from the saloon.

Shortly before 3 o'clock District Attorney Bosshard, counsel for the complainant, began his address to the jury.

The case is being heard by a jury of three, George Rose, Jr., Andrew Roth and D. A. Klein.

AGED WOMAN IS HURT IN GARDEN

Mrs. Ed. Ford of 121 North Thirteenth street, a well known woman of 75 years, had the misfortune of spraining her ankle while working in the garden at her home yesterday.

She stepped on a small stone and turned her ankle. Dr. Beckman was called and pronounced the injury a sprain, although not serious. Mrs.
Ford will probably be laid up for several weeks owing to her advanced age.

Lansing in the 6th inning, the New Albin team leaving the field as the result of dissatisfaction over a decision. The score at the time of forfeiture was 4 to 1 in favor of Lansing.

The Welcome Speech

Mayor Dunleavy's greeting to the excursionists was an ingenious composite of fun and fellowship. He said:

"Ladies and gentlemen:
"On behalf of the fair committee, and of our citizens in general, I greet you, and it is with no small sense of pride and pleasure that I most heartily welcome you—pride at our city being so highly honored, and pleasure at the thought of having so many good people of the Rid-ger state with us at this time. Lansing's hospitality is proverbial, and I sincerely trust it will not be found wanting today.

"This outpouring, or rather im-pouring, of people shows the proper spirit is the incentive of the good feeling that should exist between neighbors. Lansing needs La Crosse many times each year; so La Crosse needs Lansing's patronage, and this grand excursion certainly demonstrates that it is appreciated. May the friendly relations continue and prove mutually beneficial. I might say, as the president did at Keokuk yesterday, that you are good citizens and typical Americans, and that you come from a live, progressive city and a prosperous state. But all such compliments are unnecessary and go without saying when La Crosse people are concerned.

"It is customary on occasions of this kind to tender the visiting delegation the keys of the city, and it would give me infinite pleasure to do so, for the fact that the last crowd failed to return them. At least, since my induction into office last spring, I have seen nothing of the kind around. However, I have with me a substitute which may possibly take their place with you. I hold in my hand a small instrument with which some of you may be familiar; you may possibly have one about your person. It bears the significant inscription:

"Key to Peerless Bottle Beer, the Pioneer Pure Food Beverage."

"I feel quite sure that it will prove an open sesame and unlock, not only the doors of some of the people, but their hearts as well. Again assuring you that you are welcome visitors within our gates today, I thank you for your kind attention."

"SOPHS" HAZERS

when 300 sophomores equipped with tennis nets and clothes lines made a systematic canvass of the student section, rounded up fifty freshmen and threw all of them into Lake Mendota.

It was the most general hazing that has ever been witnessed. The "Freshies" were tied together arm to arm in groups of six and rushed toward the lake. Here they were hauled to the Chi Phi pier and each group was dumped into tennis nets.
A dozen sophomores at the ends swung the ten's nets back and forth like a hammy and counting "one, two, three," they let it go and ropes, nets and freshmen went into the lake.

A dozen freshmen living on Langdon street attempted to organize the class for resistance, but these were soon dispersed.

"Rough House" Started.

The trouble at the Polly house began when the sophomores attempted to take the freshmen from the house and the first year men refused to come out upon the commands of the sophs. Mr. Polly called the police to drive away the hazers and Patrolman Davenport grabbed Hamilton.
This aroused the students, and some of the crowd pelted the patrolman with mud and tomatoes. On the way to the station Downing was arrested.
When Hamilton was arrested Bruno ran home and informed Jung. Jung went to the station and offered bail for Hamilton. The chief placed him under arrest and relieved him of the money he had brought to bail out his friends.

Pelted With Boots.

Hamilton and Downing, the two students arrested, were in the crowd that tried to haze the freshmen at 2010 Lake street. Mr. Polly refused to permit the Sophs to enter the house and half a dozen secured admission through the second story by means of a ladder. It was necessary to go through a trap door to get at the Freshies, and as each Sophomore put his head through the door it was greeted with the boots of the Freshies.

CARRY LASALLE FIGHT HIGHER UP

WOMAN DETERMINED TO WAR TO LAST DITCH

WILL CONTEST THE DECISION

Attorneys for Notorious Woman Say They Will Produce More Evidence to Claim Estate

Within a few days an appeal to the circuit court will be filed by the attorneys for Frankie La Salle, a woman about town, 121 Pearl street, in her suit against the estate of the late Gustav Ensel for $45,948. alleged by her to have been advanced to the defendant and for care and attendance during the last six years of his life. The attorneys say the real battle for possession of the estate, valued at $30,000 will be fought out in circuit court.

Last Monday Judge Brindley, in probate court, rendered a decision, disallowing all claims of the La Salle woman, claiming the evidence offered by her was of no value. From this decision the appeal will be made.

Offers of a compromise by the defendant and also the plaintiff have been refused. The plaintiff declares an offer of $1,000 in cash, and the store building at 121 Pearl street, has been made and promptly refused. The defense claims to have received an offer of a settlement on a basis of $15,000 for all claims, and this was turned down as quickly as its own.

Now the case will go to the circuit court for trial, where the attorneys for the plaintiff say the real merits of the action will be fought out, and much more evidence introduced than was given in the probate court. The attorneys for the plaintiff claim only a prima facie case was presented in the probate court and a heap of testimony will be added to that already given.

No matter, which way a decision is given in the circuit court, an appel will be taken to the supreme court. Each side is determined to go to the highest court in the state for a decision. The case will be tried at the January term of circuit court before a jury.

Ouster Suit Dropped.

The ejectment proceedings, started to oust the La Salle woman from the building at 121 Pearl street, which she occupies now, has been dropped. The attorneys for the woman, the defense in the ouster proceedings, desired to press the case to an immediate trial at this term of circuit court, but the attorneys for the estate dropped the action.

"A few days ago a post card came from Shanghai, bearing the representation of a very emaciated Chinaman hanging forlornly in the mediaeval stocks. Underneath was written in McKinley's hand, 'This Chink stole a piece of government land in China.' The card was addressed to S.
A. D. Puter.

SHERIFF WILL QUIT READING LOVE NOTES

PRISONER OBJECTS TO PERUSAL OF EPISTLES

SWEETHEART WRITES DAILY

So Raymond Peter's Mail Must Accumulate in Sheriff's Care Until After His Hearing

Should the sheriff at the county jail open the love letters of a prisoner and read the soft things related by a sweetheart?

Raymond Peterson, Stockholm, Wis., under confinement in the county jail, awaiting trial at this term of United States district court, believes the sheriff ought not to pry into his love letters, for fear that some foul plot for a jail escape is being negotiated. Peterson, a young man, is charged with withholding money paid him by farmers on his rural route for money orders.

A strange request that his letters be opened no more, and that he will await all news from his sweetheart until he has his trial, is acquitted or convicted, was made of Turnkey Fred Raum by Peterson today. Accordingly his mail will not be opened, but will be left to accumulate until Peterson is able to receive the mail first hand.

Peterson was arrested and lodged in jail on Sept. 4. Immediately letters, bearing a Minneapolis date, began to arrive. The sheriff's office, as is their custom, opened the mail, read the letters, blushed and handed the epistles to the prisoner. Some portions of the letters they failed to read, because the sweetheart expressed her undying love for the prisoner.

The prisoner withstood the punishment until today, when he was no longer able to stand the strain and made the request that his mail be left alone. He will sacrifice the pleasure of hearing from his sweetheart until his trial begins. One letter each day is the usual number from Minneapolis.

Jail officials are wondering what Peterson would do, if they informed him that a Minneapolis letter, or two or three, are awaiting him.

Peterson probably will be placed on trial in a few days. The grand jury is hearing his case now.

gone into one of the northern provinces of China on a gold hunting expedition. This is verified by a personal item in the China Critic of recent date.

Accident Caused Change.

"McKinley's change of base was hastened somewhat by an accident which befell him, resulting in his sustaining a bad fracture of one of his ankles which laid him up for quite awhile.

"Puter has announced his intention of running the post-card as a souvenir in his forthcoming book, and declares that it must represent the punishment for some other offense than land-grabbing, for the reason that had there been any government land in China, McKinley would have gobbled it up long ago."

GETS FISH ORDERS

Alderman J. A. Kellar was up early this morning when he was kept busy rushing to the telephone to "receive orders for fish."

Customers asked for various amounts ranging from 5 to 100 pounds. All the way down to the train he was accosted by friends who gave him "their order." He went to Richmond Rocks to rejoin his party of fishermen.

S.S.S. FORTY YEARS OF CURES

Long experience and thorough testing have proven S. S. S. to be the King of blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics. For nearly half a century S. S. S. has been used in the treatment of blood and skin diseases of every character, and so satisfactory have been the results that it is now the best known and most widely used blood medicine on the market. S. S. S. attracted attention as soon as it was placed on the market by curing promptly those diseases for which it was recommended, and we have so jealously guarded its first good reputation, by keeping it up to its standard in manufacture, that it now has the unequalled and pleasing record of "Forty Years Of Cures." For Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Malaria, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other diseases due to an impure or poisoned condition of the blood, there is nothing that equals S. S. S. It counteracts and removes the germs and poisons, cleanses the system of all unhealthy matter, cures the trouble permanently, and restores strong, robust health. Where the blood is weak or anaemic and unable to nourish the system as it should, S. S. S. supplies it with the needed properties, and being a bracing, invigorating tonic it builds up the entire system. It goes to the very bottom of all blood disorders, and in this way reaches deep-seated and inherited cases on which the ordinary sarsaparillas and tonics have little or no effect. Not only is S. S. S. certain in its results, but it is an absolutely safe medicine. It enjoys the distinction of being the only blood medicine on the market that is guaranteed purely vegetable. If you are in need of a blood remedy begin the use of S. S. S., the medicine that has proven its worth by its record of forty years of cures. Book on the blood and any medical advice you wish. No charge for either.

BEST OPPORTUNITY YET TO GET VOTES

MANY CONTESTANTS TAKING
OFFER.

BANNER WEEK UP-TO-DATE

Country Districts Waking Up to Fact That Awards Are Valuable.

The 4000 special offer which is in vogue this week, has attracted wide spread attention throughout the city of La Crosse and surrounding country. The contestants realize that it is the opportunity of the contest and are taking advantage of it to pile up their reserve of votes. A few of the districts in the country have been rather dead since the start of the contest, but are commencing to wake up now, and realize that the prizes the Tribune is giving away are worth working for. Up to the present, the voting in Dis. 5, 6 and 8 has been extremely light and it would be a simple matter for some of the contestants to get a reserve of votes this week which would win them one of the valuable prizes given by the Tribune. These prizes are to be given away, and you might as well have one. This has been the banner week as far as votes are concerned. Thousands and thousands have been issued to contestants all over the city and country. Doubtless, before the close of the present liberal offer, on Monday night, Oct. 7th, many more of the contestants will have had time to get subscriptions from their friends and the vote total will go soaring into the hundreds of thousands.

It is urgent that contestants get among their friends and relatives now, as the time is rapidly slipping away and Oct. 26 will be here before you realize it.

If a person is already a subscriber, get him to pay in advance for a year or two, or send the paper to a distant friend or relative. Whether The Tribune makes a cent out of this contest or not, it intends giving twenty-six ladies handsome prizes, something of which they could be justly proud, chief of which is a fine automobile. If you are in the race or intend to enter it, make up your mind that you are going to be one of the lucky twenty-six and strive to attain that end. You can win if you try. Do not wait until the last minute, but start in right now. You will never regret the time and effort spent in this contest.

Twenty-six young ladies are sure to win. One of these might be you.

The offer of giving away as the grand prize the fine automobile is certainly a liberal one. This automobile is of the celebrated Buick make and enjoys a national reputation as to high-class mechanism, durability and superior workmanship. In short, it was gotten by The Tribune direct from the factory, and The Tribune assures the young lady who wins it that it is one of the finest of its kind that money can buy.

INQUEST TO DECIDE DEATH

Friends of Victim Believe He Met With Foul Play, Coroner Will Make Investigation.OWATONNA, Minn., Oct. 3.—Was Frank Nikalawake, whose suicide was reported on Monday, murdered?
That is the question which has been raised in this city and to determine which an inquest will be held.Nikalawake, one of the best-known saloon men of the city, was found in his saloon Monday morning lying behind the bar with a bullet wound in his head, apparently self-inflicted. The blood was pouring forth in a stream. He was at first thought to be dead, but upon investigation it was found that life was not extinct and he was taken to the city hospital where he lingered a few hours later, dying at 7 o'clock.A revolver was found in his hands and it was believed at first that he had committed suicide, pointing the gun at his temple and shooting upward. This theory was generally accepted by the public, when the theory of murder was advanced.It is said that the man was thoroughly familiar with the use of firearms and would not have so pointed the gun as to have made his death a lingering one.Nikalawake entered a barber shop and was shaved and upon being asked if he wished his hair trimmed, replied that he would wait a day or so, when the barbers were not so busy. It is claimed by many now that he entered his saloon during closed hours for the purpose of mixing himself a drink and that he was seen to do so by some midnight prowler who entered close behind him.The theory is then advanced of a quarrel and final shot being fired which killed the man.GOES TO JAIL AND NOTION CHANGEST. PETER, Minn., Oct. 3.—Having served six months in the Nicollet county jail because of his inability to furnish bond to keep the peace, Christian Peterson was given his liberty and has returned to his home in Lake Prairie township. Peterson was one of the chief figures in the witchcraft case last spring, and his arrest followed an assault on Mrs. Martha Norlin, to whom the Peterson family attributed supernatural powers and whom they accused of casting "spells" on their farm and household.Peterson toward the end of his term Peterson abandoned a good many of his sixteenth century ideas.
He could never be convinced that the woman responsible for his arrest did not possess influence with evil spirits but he would admit that he had renounced the greater part of his belief in things occult.Widowers do one thing better than

Cures Constipation
and Weak Nerves.The Worst Cases of Chronic Constipation, Lot Nerve Power, Kidney and Other Diseases Cured by Remakable New Remedy.A real, quick-acting constipation cure and nerve-food builder has been discovered, the results of which have proven remarkable, to say the least.
It is commonly known that heretofore there has not been any treatment which could positively cure constipation and build up nerve-force, or restore lost or weakened nerve-tissue. What treatments have been used, are conceded to be merely temporary stimulants.Here is a remedy which is not a patent medicine in any sense, is absolutely harmless, contains no narcotics, alcohol or mineral or animal matter, and which anyone can mix at home in a few minutes.The remedy has a wonderful scope, as it cures not only nerve diseases, such as lost vitality, nervous debility, brain fog and insomnia, but especially chronic constipation, weak back and kidney diseases.The make up of the remedy is as follows:Mix one ounce of Obifruit Compound Extract with seven ounces of port wine or unfermented grape juice. If this mixture, take one dessertspoonful three or four times a day, before each meal and at bedtime.This remedy has also the power of preventing to a remarkable extent, the approach of disease, and nerve weakness caused by excess or old age.We highly recommend this remedy to everyone of our readers. A constant supply of this remedy should always be kept on hand.The ingredients can be obtained at almost any drugstore. Obifruit Compound Extract and port wine or unfermented grape juice.

WET CYCLE PAST; BETTER TIMES DUEVETERAN THRESHERMAN SAYS TIME IS AT HAND

TOO MUCH RAIN HE SAYS

Yield of Wheat and Other Grains Will Be Greater in Coming Years With Drier WeatherLe SUEUR, Minn., Oct. 3.—Farmers in this vicinity have listened with great interest to the prediction of John Huber, veteran farmer and thresherman, that the seven-year wet cycle is now past and that we were to have a cycle of better weather.
Mr. Huber is a man of means, has a large farm and has been running threshing machines in this neighborhood for twenty-two years.He says that for the past seven years this section of the state has been afflicted with a cycle of wet years and that as a result the wheat crop has been poorer than it used to be. He states that seven years ago a good threshing machine could turn out from 2,500 to 3,000 bushels of wheat in a day, while now a good run is from 1,000 to 1,200 bushels.While 2½ cents a bushel was the price for threshing wheat in the old, productive days, now the farmer has to pay 5 cents per bushel and in some localities where the yield is small 6 cents.Corn has much improved as a crop, according to Mr. Huber. Le Sueur county now being able to raise Iowa corn that formerly did not ripen here, but owing to the poor crop last year and the phenomenally late spring this year, there has been and is now a great dearth of feed in the country. This scarcity shows most plainly the condition of this year's hogs, which should now be weighing about 200 pounds apiece, where as they average only from fifty to seventy-five pounds each.Speaking of the yield of wheat, Mr. Huber referred with interest to the great crops on the virgin soil in pioneer days. He says that without help and using only a cradle among the stumps he as cut, bound and shocked 190 bushels of wheat in a day and three-quarters in early times.

NORTHWEST BRIEFS

BARNESVILLE, Minn.—Snakes are more numerous this year in Clay and Wilkin counties than they have been at any time in the history of this section of the state. Old settlers say they never saw the reptiles equal in number and size.SIOUX FALLS, S. D.—Only one vote was cast against the proposition of issuing bonds in the sum of $5-500 which was submitted to the voters of the new town of Gregory, situated in the ceded portion of the Rosebud Indian reservation, in Gregory county, at a recent special election.SOLON SPRINGS, Wis.—Although by Messrs. Lowry and Moody will open here Oct. 13, and the tabernacle in which the meetings are to be held will seat about 1,500.ARLINGTON, S. D.—One of the finest Catholic churches in the northern part of the state is being built at Pollock, Campbell county, at the was $1,000, with no insurance. The Breaks a Cold in Twenty-Four HoursOr Cures any Cough that is Curable. Prescription of Noted PhysicianMix one half ounce of Concentrated oil of pine, with two ounces of glycerine and half a pint of good whiskey. Shake thoroughly and use in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours.The renowned throat and lung specialist of Philadelphia Clinics who established a camp for consumptives in the pine woods of Maine, and whose remarkable cures there attracted international attention, declares that the above formula is one of the very best remedies obtainable for an acute cold and that it will strengthen the lungs, relieve coughs and heal the bronchial tubes. Also, that it will cure any lung trouble not too far advanced if the patient will assist by plenty of outdoor exercise, inhaling deep, long breaths every few minutes.These ingredients are procurable of any good prescription druggist and easily mixed at home and it should take its place as one of the most valuable remedies in the family medicine chest.Inquiry at one of the leading druggists elicited the information that Concentrated oil of pine is put up for dispensing only in half ounce vials securely sealed in birch wood cases to protect it from heat and light. The oils sold in bulk and some patent medicines sold as "Oil of Pine," should be avoided because owing to their impurities they only produce nausea and are rather harmful than effective.NO ASSESSMENTS originally a Wisconsin institution, has begun a campaign of new members.R. S. Witte, grand chancellor of the Wisconsin Pythians, is soon to start out on a tour of various local lodges in Wisconsin, in an effort to build up the order where it is needed. Mr. Witte is also a Mason, Elk, Forester and belongs to other orders.

He is the law partner of D. S. Rose ant city attorney of Milwaukee, work for fraternal orders than any other one man in Wisconsin.JOHNSON SICK;

PLUTOCRATIC DIRECTORS.

(October Atlantic.)

Let it be understood that a man's reputation may be blasted by scandal within his corporations, and we shall not see men directors on a score or two of boards. In New York city one man is found to be director of forty-five railroads, another of forty-two, others of thirty-seven, thirty-five, twenty-eight, twenty-two roads. Fifteen men are in sixteen or more railroads, thirty-four are directors of from ten to fifteen roads. Forty-eight are directors of seven roads or more.
Those on the boards of from two to six roads are almost innumerable.
Seventy-six men holding among them about 1,600 directorships are said, on high authority, to control fully 100 of the greatest railroads, industrial and banking corporations, with a capital equal to one-fifth of the national wealth! Now, stricter accountability would greatly enlarge this directing personnel and perhaps rid it of some of that plutocratic arrogance which is inseparable from filling boards of directors with Wall street bankers and speculators and a few men of enormous wealth. By enlisting more men with an interest in the technical side of the business, or in the community it serves, the evils of financial directorates would be mitigated.LA CROSSE THEATRE ONE

The only change noted in the local market today is an advance of 2 cents per dozen in eggs, now selling at 24 cents per dozen. Fresh blue point oysters are now on the market selling at 45 cents per quart. Early frosts have caused some damage to the tobacco crop in Wisconsin. Probably a quarter of the crop is yet in the fields, and if it is not on high ground or otherwise protected it will show the effects of the freeze. The frequent rains last month kept the tobacco growing when it should have been maturing.

DISCOURAGEMENT FOR "NEWLY WEDS" BUTTER FOLLOWS MILK ON THE AIRLINE

CREAMERY JUMPS TO 33 CTS.

Turkey Man Now Waits There Is a Short Crop; Room for Thanks—giving If we Eat at All.

First, milk dealers advanced the price of milk to seven cents a quart, then a butter man took his turn and shoved the price of butter up to thirty-three cents a pound. Now comes the man who owns the turkeys, and lets out a wall that there will be no turkeys, and that what there are will be sky high in price. These will be tough and scrawny and not worth the cranberry sauce.

Of course, no one but Mr. Blue could spring a yarn of this nature, so early in the season, but nevertheless it is true and farmers about La Crosse, in Wisconsin and Minnesota will vouch for the truth of the statement. Commission men also believe the story, and declare the feather-duster provider will be so high in price that nothing but a bulging pocket-book can bring one to earth. There is one ray of hope in the cloud of gloom, however, and that is that there will be all kinds of chickens and ducks at very reasonable prices. Anyway, a chicken is just as good as a turkey, setting aside precedent, associations and the rest of the trimmings.

The chicken and duck market will be very good and large quantities of toothsome young birds may be secured from now on without straining one's salary. Also, there are all kinds of eggs, according to the men who know, and they are of high quality. A prominent commission man said yesterday that the storage eggs were never better and that there were enough to go around two or three times. The eggs now coming in from the country are of a poor quality for some reason, but the eggs already in storage can't be beat.

Plenty of Eggs, Though.
But with butter and eggs selling at common people prices and chickens and ducks in reach of the middle-sized purses, who cares if turkeys soar out of sight, or if the beef trust inflates its price list every day. And as a sort of ballast for all that is gone before, potatoes are plentiful and fairly cheap, but a tip to be followed to advantage is to buy the winter's supply now.

terly assailed is now one of the most fertile and productive portions of one of the most fertile and productive agricultural territories in all the world, and the dwellers in this territory represent a higher average of comfort, intelligence, and sturdy capacity for self-government than the people in any tract of like extent in any other continent. The land teems with beauty and fertility, and but a score of years after Dickens wrote it was shown to be a nursery and breeding ground of heroes, of soldiers and statesmen of the highest rank, while the rugged worth of the rank and file of the citizenship rendered possible the deeds of the mighty men who led in council and in battle. This was the region that brought forth mighty Abraham Lincoln, the incarnation of all that is best in democratic life; and from the loins of the same people, living only a little farther south, sprang another of our greatest presidents, Andrew Jackson, "Old Hickory"—a man who made mistakes, like most strong men but a man of iron will and incorruptible integrity, fearless, upright, devoted to the welfare of his countrymen, bone of our bone and flesh of our flesh, a typical American if ever there was one.

Be Optimistic, Not Pessimistic

I commend a careful reading of Martin Chuzzlewit to the pessimists of today, to the men who, instead of fighting hard to do away with abuses while at the same time losing no jot of their buoyant hopefulness for the country, insist that all our people, socially, and industrially, in their private lives no less than as politicians, newspaper men, and business men, are at a lower ebb than ever before. If every one of you feels a little downcast over the peculiarly gloomy view of the present taken by some well-meaning pessimist of today, you will find it a real comfort to read Martin Chuzzlewit, to see what a well-meaning pessimist of the past thought of our people sixty-five years ago, and then think of the extraordinary gain, morally no less than materially, of those sixty-five years. Dickens can be read by us now with profit; Elijah Pogram, Hannibal Chollop, Jefferson Brick and Scadder have their representatives today, plenty of them; and the wise thing for us to do is to recognize that these are still types of evil in politics, journalism, business, and private life, and to war against them with all our hearts. But it is rank folly to regard these as the only, or the chief types in our national life. It was not of much consequence whether Dickens made such an error or not, but it would be of great consequence if we ourselves did; for a foolish pessimism is an even greater foe of healthy national growth than a foolish optimism. It was not that Dickens invented characters or scenes that had no basis in fact; on the contrary, what he said was true, as far as it went; the trouble was that out of many such half truths he made a picture which as a whole was absurd; for often a half truth is the most dangerous falsehood. It would be simply silly to be angry over Martin Chuzzlewit; on the contrary, read it, be amused by it, profit by it; and don't be misled by it. Keep a lively watch against the present-day Pograms and Bricks; but above all, distrust the man who would persuade you to feel downhearted about the country because of these same Pograms and Bricks, past or present. It would be foolish to ignore their existence, or the existence of anything else that is bad in our national life; but it would be even more foolish to ignore the vaster forces that tell for righteousness. Friends, there is every reason why we should fight whatever is evil in the present. But there is also every reason why we should feel a sturdy and confident hope for the future. There are many wrongs to right; there are many and powerful wrong doers against whom to war; and it would be base to shrink from the contest, or to fail to wage it with a high, a resolute will. But I am sure that we shall win in the contest, because I know that the heart of our people is sound. Our average men and women are good men and women—and this is true in all sections of our country and among all classes of our countrymen. There is no other nation on earth with such vast natural resources, or with such a high standard of living and of industrial efficiency among its workers. We have as a nation an era of unexampled prosperity ahead of us; we shall enjoy it, and our children will enjoy it after us. The trend of well-being in this country is upward, not downward; and this is the trend in the things of the soul as well as in the things of the body.

Principles of Gov't are Simple

Government in its application is often a complicated and delicate work, but the principles of government are after all fairly simple. In a broad general way we should apply in the affairs of the national administration, which deals with the interest of all our eighty-odd millions of people, just the same rules that are necessary in getting on with our neighbors in our several neighborhoods; and the nation as a whole should show substantially the same qualities that we would expect an honorable man to show in dealing with his fellows. To illustrate this, consider for a moment two phases of governmental action.
The Right Kind of a Man.
First as to international affairs. Among your own neighbors, among your friends, what is the attitude you like to see a man take toward his fellows, the attitude you wish each of your sons to take when he goes out into the world? Is it not a combination of readiness and ability to hold his own if anyone tries to wrong him, while at the same time showing careful regard not only for the rights, but for the feelings of others? Of course it is! Of course the type of man whom we respect, whom we are proud of if he is a kinsman, whom we are glad to have as a friend and neighbor, is the man who is no milksop, who is not afraid, who will not tolerate nor hesitate to resent insult or injury, but who himself is never inflamed by insult or injury. It is kindly, good-natured, thoughtful of others' rights—in short, a good man to do business with or have live in, the next house or have as a friend. On the other hand, the man who lacks any of these qualities is sure to be objectionable. If a man is afraid to hold his own, if he will submit to wronging, he is contemptible. If he is a bully, an oppressor, a man who wrongs or suits others, he is even worse and should be hunted out of the community. But, on the whole, the contemptible position that can possibly be assumed by any man is that of blustering, of bragging, of insulting or wronging other people, while yet expecting to go through life unchallenged, and being always willing to back down and accept humiliation if readiness to make good is demanded.

Nations Are Like Individuals.

Well, all this is just as true of a nation as of an individual, and in dealing with other nations we should act as we expect a man who is both game and decent to act in private life. There are few things cheaper and more objectionable, whether on the part of the public man or of the private man, on the part of a writer or of a speaker, an individual or a group of individuals, than a course of conduct which is insulting or hurtful, whether in speech or act, to individuals of another nation or to the representatives of another nation or to another nation itself. But the policy becomes infamous from the standpoint of the interests of the United States when it is combined with the refusal to take those measures of preparation which can alone secure us from aggression on the part of others. The policy of "peace with insult" is the very worst policy upon which for a nation or an individual, to be rich, unarmed, and yet insolent and aggressive, is to court well-nigh certain disaster. The only safe and honorable rule of foreign policy for the United States is to show itself courteous toward other nations, scrupulous not to infringe upon their rights, and yet able and ready to defend its own. This nation is now on terms of the most cordial good will with all other nations. Let us make it a prime object of our policy to preserve these conditions. To do so it is necessary on the one hand to mete out a generous justice to all other peoples and show them courtesy and respect; and on the other hand, as we are yet a good way off from the millennium, to keep ourselves in such shape as to make it evident to all men that we desire peace because we think it is just and right and not from motives of weakness or timidity. As for the first requisite, this means that not only the government but the people as a whole shall act in the needed spirit; for otherwise the folly of a few individuals may work lasting discredit to the whole nation. The second requisite is more easily secured—let us build up and maintain at the highest point of efficiency the United States navy. In any great war on land we should have to rely in the future as we have relied in the past chiefly upon volunteer soldiers; and although it is indispensable that our little army, an army ludicrously small relatively to the wealth and population of this mighty nation, should itself be trained to the highest point and should be valued and respected as is demanded by the worth of the officers and enlisted men, yet it is not necessary that this army should be large as compared to the armies of other great nations. But as regards the navy all this is different. We have an enormous coast line, and our coast line is on two great oceans. To repel hostile attacks the fortifications, and not the navy, must be used; but the best way to parry is to hit—no fight can ever be won except by hitting—and we can only hit by means of the navy. It is utterly impossible to improvise even a makeshift navy under the conditions of modern warfare. Since the days of Napoleon no war between two great powers has lasted as long as it would take to build a battleship, let alone a fleet of battleships; and it takes just as long to train the crew of a battleship as it does to build it; and as regards the most important thing of all, the training of the officers, it takes much longer. The navy must be built and all its training given in time of peace. When once war has broken out it is too late to do anything. We now have a good navy, not yet large enough for our needs, but of excellent material. Where a navy is as small as ours, the cardinal rule must be that the battleships shall not be separated. This year I am happy to say that we shall begin a course which I hope will be steadily followed hereafter, that, namely, of keeping the battleship fleet alternately in the Pacific and in the Atlantic. Early in December the fleet will begin its voyage to the Pacific, and it will number, friends, among its formidable fighting craft three great battleships, named, respectively, the Illinois, the Missouri, and the Kentucky. It is a national fleet in every sense of the term, and its welfare should be, and I firmly believe is, as much a matter of pride and concern for every man in the farthest interior of our country as for every man on the seacoast. A long ocean voyage is mighty good training; and not the least good it will do will be to show just the points where our naval program needs strengthening. Incidentally I think the voyage will have one good effect, for, to judge by their comments on the movement, some excellent people in my own section of the country need to be reminded that the

CHURCHMAN EXPOSED BY GIRL

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 2.—In the midst of friends who had known him as a religious and exemplary man, and while he was playing the processional in the Centenary Methodist church, Edward R. Snyder, 52 years old, was arrested on the complaint of Margaret Caldwell, 18 years old, of 6638 Hobart avenue, who charges that he betrayed her. Snyder was locked up, and two warrants were issued. He said that Miss Caldwell's personal magnetism had lured him from his wife and family, but that he was not guilty of the principal charge.

Dead Nuts on Fruit.

James Wilson, the secretary of agriculture, was discussing in Washington the aid which his department gives the American farmer. Secretary Wilson pointed out the benefit that had been derived from the introduction of durum wheat, of the wheat testing machines and of the method of extracting potash from granite. "In fact," said Mr. Wilson, smiling, "I believe that eventually our finest products will be cheap enough to be within the reach of all. Then the story of the boy and the hot-house grapes will be as dead and antiquated as the theater hat stories of the past."

"This boy—he was a bootblack—"

entered a grocer's one day, and, pointing to some superb grapes, said: "What's the price of them there, mister?" "One dollar a pound, my lad," the clerk replied. "A look of anguish passed over the boy's face, and he said hastily: 'Then give us a cent's worth of carrots. I'm dead nuts on fruit.'"—Washington Times.

The old days of grasshoppers and drought are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although a citizen of Codell, Earl Shamburgh, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." who was governor of the state for a term, was a terror and torment to the judges. On one occasion Judge Sanger, having been bullied and badgered out of all patience, petulantly asked: "What does the counsel suppose I am on this bench for?" Scratching his head a minute, Butler replied, "Well, I confess your honor's got me there."

LAST TRIBUTE TO SOPHRONA HARE

VENERABLE WOMAN IS LAID IN LAST REPOSE

GALE COLLEGE IS OPENED

Fall Term Starts With Large Attendance—Other News of the Hustling City of Galesville

GALESVILLE, Wis., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The funeral of the late Mrs. Sophrona Hare was held yesterday from the family residence near this city, Rev. A. R. Kiern, pastor of the Clark Street M. E. church, conducting the services. The house and grounds were filled with friends of the deceased and a long procession followed the remains to Trempealeau, where interment was made.

Mrs. Hare was one of the early settlers of southern Trempealeau county. She was born in the state of New York in 1840. In 1868 she was married to Frank Hare, and at about that time came to this vicinity, settling on a farm in the town of Caledonia, which remained her home up to the time of her death. She is survived by her husband, Frank Hare, who fought through the civil war with the famous Iron Brigade, and one son.

Gale Opens Fall Term. The fall term at Gale college opened yesterday with an attendance exceeding the expectations of the faculty. The work of enrollment was commenced early in the morning and will not be completed until today. The majority of the students are those in their second and third years, but there are many new ones. The boys and girls at Gale come largely from other points, the home students making only a small percentage. Southern Minnesota contributes many.

The college faculty this year is made up of Rev. L. M. Gimmetstad, Prof. A. F. Gere, Prof. Berge, Miss Walsch and Miss Quammen.

Mrs. Dettinger Dead. Mrs. Gottlieb Dettinger, a former resident of this vicinity, died Monday at the home of her daughter, near Stevens.

The remains will be brought to Galesville for interment, services being held in the Presbyterian church. The deceased was nearly 80 years of age and had been a widow many years.

The tribe was organized by Deputy H. J. Plentje, of Fountain City. The work of conferring the degrees was in charge of Grand Sachem Raymond of Wisconsin, assisted by Past Great Sachem Hoffman of Minnesota. The degree team from Winona Tribe No. 20, seventeen strong, was here in full Indian attire and exemplified the work. Following the conferring of degrees a banquet was held. The tribe is officered as follows:

A Bold Step. To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merit and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the closest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, biliousness and all catarrhal diseases, wherever located have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled, from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading physicians of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous ingredients, and that they are made from native medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the various functions, correcting displacements, as prostrations, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

Pacific coast is exactly as much a part of this nation as the Atlantic.

Reviews Domestic Conditions. So much for foreign affairs. Now for a matter of domestic policy. Here in this country we have founded a great federal democratic republic. It is a government by and for the people and therefore a genuine democracy; and the theory of our constitution is that each neighborhood shall be left to deal with the things that concern only itself and which it can most readily deal with; so that town, county, city, and state have their respective spheres of duty, while the nation deals with those matters which concern all of us, all of the people, no matter where we dwell. Our democracy is based upon the belief that each individual ought to have the largest measure of liberty compatible with securing the rights of other individuals, that the average citizen, the plain man whom we meet in daily life, is normally capable of taking care of his own affairs, and has no desire to wrong any one else; and yet that in the interest of all there shall be sufficient power lodged somewhere to prevent people from trampling the weak under foot for their own gain. Our constant endeavor is to make a good working compromise whereby we shall secure the full benefit of individual initiative and responsibility, while at the same time recognizing that it is the function of a wise government under modern conditions not merely to protect life and property, but to foster the social development of the people so far as this may be done by maintaining and promoting justice, honesty, and equal rights. We believe in democracy as regards political rights, as regards education, and, finally, as regards industrial conditions. By democracy we understand securing, as far as it is humanly possible to secure it, equality of opportunity, equality of the conditions under which each man is to show the stuff that is in him and to achieve the measure of success to which his own force of mind and character entitles him. Religiously this means that each man is to have the right, unhindered by the state, to worship his Creator as his conscience dictates, granting freely to others the same freedom which he asks for himself. Politically we can be said substantially to have worked out our democratic ideals, and the same is true, thanks to the common schools, in educational matters. But in industry there has not as yet been the governmental growth necessary in order to meet the tremendous changes brought about in industrial conditions by steam and electricity. It is not in accordance with our principles that literally despotic power should be put into the hands of a few men in the affairs of the industrial world. Our effort must be for a just and effective plan of action which, while scrupulously safeguarding the rights of the man of wealth, shall yet, so far as is humanly possible, secure under the law to all men equality of opportunity to make a living. It is to the interest of all of us that the man of exceptional business capacity should be amply rewarded; and there is nothing inconsistent with this in our insistence that he shall not be guilty of bribery or extortion, and that the rights of the wage-worker and of the man of small means, who are themselves honest and hard working, shall be scrupulously safeguarded. The instruments for the exercise of modern industrial power are the great corporations which, though created by the individual states, have grown far beyond the control of those states and transact their business throughout large sections of the union. These corporations, like the industrial conditions which have called them into being, did not exist when the constitution was founded; but the wise forethought of the founders provided, under the interstate commerce clause of the constitution, for the very emergency which has arisen, if only our people as a whole will realize what this emergency is; for if the people thoroughly realize it, their governmental representatives will soon realize it also. The national government alone has sufficiently extensive power and jurisdiction to exercise adequate control over the great interstate corporations. While this thorough supervision and control by the national government is desirable primarily in the interest of the people, it will also, I firmly believe, be to the benefit of those corporations themselves which desire to be honest and law-abiding. Only thus can we put over these corporations one competent and efficient sovereign—the nation—able both to exact justice from them and to secure justice for them, so that they may not be alternately pampered and oppressed. The proposal need be dreaded only by those corporations which do not wish to obey the law or to be entrilled in just fashion, but prefer to take their chances under the present lack of any system and to court the chance of getting improper favors as off-setting the chance of being blackmailed—an attitude rendered familiar in the past by those corporations which had thriven under certain corrupt and lawless city governments.

The first need is to exercise this federal control in thoroughgoing and efficient fashion over the railroads, which, because of their peculiar position, offer the most immediate and urgent problem. The American people abhor a vacuum, and is determined that this control shall be exercised somewhere; it is most unwise for the railroads to not recognize this and to submit to it as the first requisite of the situation. When this control is exercised in some fashion mrdloc m mdum some such fashion as it is now exercised over the national banks, there will be no falling off in business prosperity. On the contrary, the chances for the average man to do better will be increased. Undoubtedly there will be much less opportunity than at present for a very few individuals not of the most scrupulous type to amass great fortunes by speculating in and manipulating securities which are issued without any kind of control or supervision. But there will be plenty of room left for ample legitimate reward for business genius, while the chance for the man who is not a business genius, but who is a good, thrifty, hard-working citizen, will be better. I do not believe that our efforts will have anything but a beneficial effect upon the permanent prosperity of the country; and, as a matter of fact, even as regards any temporary effect, I think that any trouble is due fundamentally not to the fact that the national authorities have discovered and corrected certain abuses, but to the fact that those abuses were there to be discovered. I think that the excellent people who have complained of our policy as hurting business have shown much the same spirit as the child who regards the dentist and not the ulcerated tooth as the real source of his woe. I am as certain as I can be of anything that the course we are pursuing will ultimately help business; for the corrupt man of business is as great a foe to this country as the corrupt politician. Both stand on the same evil eminence of infamy. Against both it is necessary to war; and if, unfortunately, in either type of warfare, a few innocent people are hurt, the responsibility lies not with us, but with those who have misled them to their hurt.

This is a rapidly growing nation, on a new continent, and in an era of new, complex, and ever-shifting conditions. Often it is necessary to devise new methods of meeting these new conditions. We must regard the past, but we must not regard only the past. We must also think of the future; and while we must learn by experience, we can not afford to pay heed merely to the teachings of experience. The great preacher Channing, in his essay on "The Union" spoke with fine insight on this very point. In commenting on the New England statesman Cabot, whom he greatly admired, he said that nevertheless "he had too much of the wisdom of experience; he wanted what may be called the wisdom of hope."

He then continued in words which have a peculiar fitness for the conditions of today: "We apprehend that it is possible to make experience too much our guide. There are seasons in human affairs, of inward and outward revolutions, when new depths seem to be broken up in the soul, when new wants are unfolded in multitudes, and a new and undefined good is thirsted for. These are periods when the principles of experience need to be modified, when hope and trust and instinct claim a share with prudence in the guidance of affairs, when in truth to dare is the highest wisdom."

These sentences should be carefully pondered by those men, often very good men, who forget that constructive change offers the best method of avoiding destructive change; that reform is the antidote to revolution; and that social reform is not the precursor but the preventive of socialism.
